Welles Asks For Investigation Of Duggan's Death

Asks Investigation To Determine If He May Have Been Murdered

FEDERAL JURY MAY ALSO PROBE

By JAMES L. KILGALLEN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—A direct appeal from Sumner Welles To Mayor William O'Dwyer touched off today an intensified investigation to determine if Laurence Duggan, 43-year-old diplomat, may have been murdered.

Welles, former undersecretary of state and once the boss of the young State department Latin-American affairs expert, made his plea to the New York mayor in a telegram.

Linked In Testimony

Duggan, who was questioned by the FBI 10 days before he hurtled to death from his 16th-floor New York office Monday night, was linked in Washington testimony to the pre-war Communist spy ring.

But Welles described Duggan as an extremely loyal public servant who rendered "outstanding service" to his country.

The former undersecretary said further that he had received, only Monday, a letter from Duggan written in such a vein that made Welles certain he could not have been contemplating suicide.

Mayor O'Dwyer pledged New York authorities would do everything possible to get to the bottom of the case.

Italian Chorus Sings Tonight

Ukrainian Chorus Presents Public Square Carol Program Tuesday

Lovely old Ukrainian melodies, one of them 1000 years old, were heard in downtown New Castle Tuesday night, December 21. The Surma Ukrainian chorus presented a group of Christmas carols in the Ukrainian language and in English.

One of the numbers that drew the attention of the listeners was "Videwdok", a song that is said to be ten centuries old. Its age had nothing to do with its beauty and the chorus presented it well.

Another air presented in Ukrainian was "Rozdestvo Chrystove" written by the director of the chorus, Rev. Stephen Musiychuk. In English the "Carol of the Bells" was sung. The program was a delightful one.

Tonight at 7:30 the Italian chorus will present the carols under the direction of B. J. Biondi.

Pa Newc Observes

One of the largest Christmas trees to be set up inside a building locally is a brightly decorated 24-foot spruce in the auditorium of Christ Lutheran church on East Washington. The tree is approximately 25 years old and its branches are 12 feet in diameter at the base.

Whether it snows or not for December 25, there will be a white Christmas around the post office. Pa Newc noticed employes scattering lime on the grass, which made it look like a light skift of snow had fallen.

Serving as the genial Santa Claus was Thomas Hartman who pleased the youngsters as he presented each with his or her bag of goodies. Mrs. Robert Loy was general chairman of the informal program, which included the singing of Christmas carols and short remarks. The president of the Oak Street P. T. A. is Mrs. Clark Shumate. Major Objectives Reported Taken By Dutch Army

BATAVIA, Dec. 22.—(INS)—The Dutch army claimed the capture today of almost all major objectives in the Indonesian fighting.

A communique annouced that the Republicans' Sumatra capital, Bukittinggi, and the Java City of Soerakarta, second largest of the Republic, have been occupied.

The communique added that Magelang, 40 miles west of Surakarta, has also been captured. This would mean that the Dutch have completed encirclement of the two main mountain ranges in central Java. But the mountains

Hero Of Bastogne Given Honor On Anniversary

DETROIT, Dec. 22. — (INS) — General Anthony McAuliffe is honored on two continents today as the man who made the lowly expression "Nuts!" a symbol of American courage.

McAuliffe, the hero of Bastogne, is in Detroit for a reunion with a handful of the 12,000 warriors who helped him translate that slang term into something akin to—

"Don't give up the ship!" . . . of all those sometimes apocryphal cries attributed to the embattled great in America's history.

McAuliffe roared "Nuts!" to the Germans in Bastogne just four

Span Hearing Is Concluded

Judges Will Study Testimony And Hand Down Decision Later

John Span Jr.'s fate is now with the two judges of Lawrence County, W. Walter Braham and John G. Lamoree.

Late Tuesday afternoon the taking of testimony in the case was finished. Span shot and killed his father, John Span, Sr., on September 19 and pleaded guilty. It was for the purpose of fixing the degree of his guilt that testimony was taken.

Tells Dramatic Story

Span took the stand Tuesday afternoon to tell his story to the court. It was a dramatic story, one punctuated with recollections of battle in World War Two, sudden death, escape from death, and capture by the Germans.

He told his story in simple straight forward fashion. He was in the Battle of Normandy and its hedge fighting, in the battle of Northern France and the Rhineland.

Once, going through a minefield, the men immediately in front

A small crowd of well-wishers headed by Secretary of Commerce Sawyer gathered at the Washington National Airport to bid the president Godspeed and a Merry Christmas.

Chinese 'Red' Forces In Raid Near Nanking

Raiding Spearhead Is Reported Within Ten Miles Of Nanking

NEW "WAR CABINET" GIVEN APPROVAL

(BULLETIN)

NANKING, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Nationalist China's top political body today approved a new "war cabinet" designed to guide the nation through the present crisis in the struggle against the Communists.

The action came as surging Red armies sent raiding spearheads within 10 miles of Nanking while the defenders of isolated Peiping and Tientsin launched desperate counter-attacks to save North China's two greatest cities from capture.

The new "big name" cabinet of Premier Sun Fo was approved by the central political council of the Kuomintang (Nationalist party) this morning at a meeting in Nanking. President Chiang Kai-shek presided over the session.

Inner Cabinet Enlarged

The Nationalist "inner cabinet" was enlarged from a membership of four to six ministers without portfolio. At the same time, a new war minister and a new government information director were named to replace men who had resigned from those jobs.

After today's Kuomintang council meeting it was announced the new cabinet will be formally inaugurated tomorrow.

Approval of the Sun Fo cabinet was voted after 2,000 Red troops, infiltrating through government lines, staged a bold raid on Hsiyuchin, only 10 miles from Nanking.

The Communist band was reportedly thrown out of the suburban town after suffering heavy casualties, but the attack underscored the growing menace to the Nationalist capital.

Reports reaching Nanking also said that government forces had driven Communists from Tangku, the port city, 27 miles east of Tientsin.

Allied War Tribunal's Penalty Is Imposed Just After Midnight

By HOWARD HANDLEMAN
(I.N.S. Staff Correspondent)

TOKYO, Dec. 23.—(Thursday)—Former Premier Hideki Tojo and six other top Japanese war leaders were hanged on the gallows at Sugamo prison shortly after midnight today.

The men paid with their lives for war crimes of which they were found guilty by an 11-nation allied Far East tribunal.

The men were Tojo, Kenji Diohara, Gen. Seishiro Itagaki, Gen. Heitaro Kimura, Gen. Iwane Matsui, Gen. Akiro Muto and former Premier Koki Hirota.

The hangings, staged in the presence only of the executioners themselves and official witnesses, were made known to the world less than an hour after the bespectacled Tojo and his six colleagues began their grim march to the gibbet.

Shortly before 1 a. m. Gen. Douglas MacArthur's occupation headquarters issued the terse but electrifying announcement:

"Between 12:01 and 12:35 a. m. on the 23rd of December, 1948, all seven of the war criminals that were condemned by the International Military Tribunal of the Far East were hanged."

Top War Criminals

Accusations against those hanged were:

Tojo, Premier at the time of the attack at Pearl Harbor and through the war, was ranked as a top war criminal in a class with Hitler and Mussolini.

Diohara, 64, was Japan's "Lawrence of Manchuria." He plotted the 1931 incident at Mukden that launched Japan's war of conquest against China.

Gen. Itagaki, 62, former war minister commanded Japanese troops at Singapore, where thousands of allied prisoners were tortured and murdered.

Gen. Kumura, 59, was held responsible for the atrocities committed on allied war prisoners in Burma. He was vice minister of war in the Tojo cabinet.

Gen. Matsui was charged with the responsibility for 1938 rape of Nanking, during which 200,000 persons were butchered in six weeks.

Gen. Muto, 55, was chief of staff for Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita, Japanese army leader in the Philippines.

Hirota, 65, drew up the master blueprint for the Japanese invasion of China.

Details of the historic executions were withheld for the time being.

But the 34-minute spread between the start and completion of the hangings—carried out two days before Christmas and 16 days after the seventh anniversary of the Tojo-ordered Pearl Harbor sneak

Half-Wrecked Plane Sighted

Plane Believed To Be One Reported Missing With 24 Persons Aboard

ATHENS, Dec. 22. — (INS) — A half-wrecked Czech airliner was sighted today on a rocky headland in the mountainous Peloponnese peninsula in southern Greece.

The plane was believed to be one reported missing on a Rome-Athens flight, with 19 passengers and five crew members aboard, only a short time before.

Discovery of the wreckage was made by search planes flying over the Greek part of the plane's route. One pilot said that he was unable to fly low enough to see whether there were any survivors, but that from the appearance of the wreckage there is not much hope.

The pilot of the plane was reported to be Tehon Foklar, who piloted Winston Churchill during the war.

Five Greek Dakota transports and two U. S. Air Force planes had begun a search for the missing craft early today.

One report said that most of the passengers were en route to Palestine.

Asks Acquittal Of Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo

MARBURG, Germany, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Defense Attorney Stanley H. Gaines appealed to a U. S. Military Tribunal today to acquit Mrs. Wilma Ybarbo and recognize that she killed her "tough hombre" GI husband only in terrified defense of her own life.

Gaines urged that the attractive Malden, Mass., widow be freed in time to spend Christmas with her six-year-old son.

He painted her slain husband, Sgt. John Ybarbo of Goliad, Texas, as a brute "with huge fists, over six feet tall, half-Indian and half-Spanish, who after drinking punched his wife in the eye."

Arthur Mometer

I know a lad who is barely three who is due for a big surprise for this is a Christmas he'll understand and the gleam I see in his eyes will broaden much in a couple of days, when on Christmas morn he awakes, and finds some toys and a lot of clothes, a wagon that's fitted with brakes. He'll find some sweaters of wondrous hue, and all of these toys because, he's filled with faith that on Christmas morn he'll be hearing from Santa Claus. A childlike faith, well, of course it is, but a wonderful faith to see, and he'll find it pays when he sees his toys, the weather's forty three.

Yule Mail Rush Is Tapering Off

Number Of Cancellations Tuesday Below Monday's Record Number

TODAY'S VOLUME WILL BE LOWER

After Monday's record-breaking volume, the amount of mail being handled at the local post office is beginning to slack off, although there was a great amount taken care of Tuesday. Cancellations total 178,600,, for Tuesday, which included over 10,000 for the Mahoningtown office, but this was almost a hundred thousand less than Monday's figure.

Yesterday was also a big day, only 30,000 less than the previous high water mark set in 1947. Today, however, is expected to show a slump. There were few people around the parcel post window at mid-morning today, whereas there have been huge lines there for the past week.

Th incoming volume of parcel post, however, is just as heavy as ever, indicating that it is being worked out of the terminals and into the different offices.

It will be the biggest Christmas mail rush ever experienced, however, all over the nation, it is believed, and will set new records everywhere.

Tojo and his colleagues paid the supreme penalty three days after the United States Supreme Court had slammed the door on all hopes for their rescue from the gallows.

America's highest tribunal refused last Monday to intervene in the case on the grounds that the jurisdiction lay within the eleven-nation Tokyo tribunal that doomed the seven Japanese warlords.

The bald-pated, 64-year-old Tojo was not among those who appealed to the Supreme Court from the death sentences pronounced November 19 and confirmed by Gen. McArthur November 26. Sixteen other Japanese war leaders were sentenced to life imprisonment and two more received lesser prison terms.

taker Chambers-Alger Hiss case also may look into the circumstances of Duggan's death.

The jury, which is investigating Communist espionage, is continuing its probe of the Hiss-Chambers case today, and is scheduled to hear testimony from former Assistant Secretary of State Francis Sayre and his secretary, Anna Belle Newcomb.

But there is a strong belief that after the first half of the year, the jury may summon anti-Communist writer and editor Isaac Don Levine, who had linked Duggan with a red "underground" in Washington which funnelled government information to Whittaker Chambers.

Chambers denied yesterday that he had ever seen or received papers from Duggan, who was killed Monday night in a 16-story plunge from a Manhattan office building. Chambers indicated that he merely mentioned Duggan as a member of a pro-Communist State department group.

Duggan's questioning by the FBI was described as "routine" by E. E. Scheidt, agent in charge for New York. Scheidt said the quizzing took place 10 days before Duggan died.

Probe Death Of Girl In New York

Seek Cause Of Death Of Girl In Office Of Noted Woman Psychiatrist

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(INS)—New York homicide detectives today reached back into the life of blonde 22-year-old Beatrice Smith for some information which may help them to determine the cause of her death in the fashionable offices of Dr. Flanders Dunbar, noted woman psychiatrist.

Miss Smith, of Greenwich, Conn., who had hoped some day to become a great writer, had been collaborating with the psychiatrist on a new book.

She was found wearing a bathrobe lying on a couch in Dr. Dunbar's office, a short time after Dr. Dunbar and her husband sailed for Cuba. The body was found by Priscilla Houston, also of Greenwich.

Under her pillow lay a loaded pistol. Beside her, two bottles—one filled with sedatives, the other with some pills not yet identified, police said.

There were no marks on the girl's body and no indication of violence. Only a note was found, which read in part—

"I can't finish this work. I can't see."

Would Revise Tax Structure In Pennsylvania

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—A special legislative tax study committee today recommended a revision of the state's tax structure to place the burden on corporate earning power.

The shift would be from tax bases using capital values to levies based on income of corporations.

Commerce Secretary Orus J. Matthews, committee chairman, said the plan would produce the same dollar value of taxes as the present corporate tax structure.

He predicted that the proposed method of taxation "would attract new industry into Pennsylvania".

Tax Heavy Profits

Under the program, corporations showing heavy profits would be taxed on the income basis whereas corporations operating at a loss would be taxed according to the three-mill corporate net income tax.

Matthews said the plan, to be submitted to the 1949 general assembly for its approval, would affect approximately 25,000 corporations in Pennsylvania.

He said the shift is intended to tap companies earning more and to wipe out what he called "horse-trading" in tax assessments under the present corporate tax structure.

The study committee's recommendation on corporate taxes is the first half of the group's work. will cover personal and local taxes The second half, Matthews said, and will be announced shortly.

NAVY B-17 EXPECTED TO REACH PORT

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 22.—(INS)—A Navy B-17 nearing San Francisco from Honolulu was in trouble today, but Coast Guard authorities said it would reach port without difficulty.

The number of persons aboard was not known.

Navy and Coast Guard rescue ships were sent out, and the plane is now being accompanied by a Coast Guard rescue plane. The B-17 is 300 miles from San Francisco.

HERO OF BASTOGNE GIVEN HONOR ON ANNIVERSARY

years ago. And, today, the kids of Bastogne are being reminded of its historical significance.

It was bleak day in Belgium when aides of the German officer commanding troops which had encircled McAuliffe and his paratroopers called at the American command post with the ultimatum: "Surrender or be annihilated."

The general delivered the now-famous slang retort. Then, with an air as stiff and formal as that of his callers, he turned and instructed his aide to put the reply in writing.

Some of the air-lift pilots are recalling this to the collective mind of Bastogne today by diverting from their Berlin route to drop gifts to the children—among them, packages of nuts.

The Belgian government will cable a message of appreciation to the hero of one of world War II's outstanding battles and it will be delivered to him during tonight's ceremony at the Hotel Fort Shelby.

of and behind him were blown up. Another time a buddy took his place on a wire detail and was killed. Finally Span and his platoon were captured by the Germans.

Again he missed death. He understands German and he heard the German officer tell the men frisking the American captives to shoot any man found with German souvenirs on him. Span had some German money on him but somehow was able to get through the frisking without the money being detected.

Doesn't Remember

As to the shooting of his father, he said, his mind is practically a blank. He remembers the gun, he remembers having the handcuffs snapped on, he remembers pointing the gun at his brother, but he said he does not remember shooting his father.

Several witnesses testified to his mental condition since the war. Dr. Hugh C. Hart treated Span and said he was a "compulsive drinker", that is he drank alcoholic beverages to blot out the memory of things that had happened in the war.

Other witnesses told of rages while he was drunk, of mental aberrations and of a changed personality.

The two judges will study the testimony and will hand down a decision later. They can find him guilty of first degree murder, second degree murder or manslaughter. Because of the unusual conditions surrounding the case it is likely no decision will come down for some days, possibly not until after the first of the new year.

Butler Firemen Ask For Increase

BUTLER, Dec. 22.—City firemen officially added their requests for substantial wage boosts in 1949 at Tuesday's city council meeting. A petition, presented in October but only just made public asked for a $30 monthly boost.

The firemen also requested a $50 yearly clothing allowance. At present, firemen buy their own protective garments.

Council members remained noncommittal on the exact wage boost due city employes next year. The firemen's petition was added to the minutes of the meeting.

City police made a smilar request last week.

It is estimated that more than 80 percent of the spending money in the United States is controlled by women.

Murray Fails To Appear Before House Committee

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—CIO President Philip Murray failed to appear before a one-man house labor subcommittee which subpoenaed him to testify on a Michigan labor dispute.

Rep. Hoffman (R) Mich., the subcommittee member, immediately referred the matter to Attorney General Clark, but declared that "I don't expect any action on it".

Hoffman added that he would not ask the justice department to "prosecute anyone". He indicated that he would not push the matter because "this congress has got the rigor mortis".

Murray announced yesterday that he would defy the subpoena. The subpoena, issued by Hoffman, directed Murray to appear for questioning in connection with a raid on plants of the Shakespeare Co., Kalamazoo, Mich., by members of CIO unions.

The CIO chief informed Hoffman in a letter that he did not regard the subpoena as legal and the congressman declared at the hearing that Murray might be right in that respect because there is no minority member on the subcommittee.

serted that Marshall plan shipments to the Dutch were being used in the battle to crush the Republic of Indonesia.

However, Dutch Ambassador Van Kleefen has denied that Dutch troops have been armed through use of recovery funds.

The ECA action presumably does not affect Marshall plan shipments to Holland.

The ECA up to the present has approved more than 298 million dollars in grants to the Netherlands and more than 61 million dollars to the Netherlands East Indies.

The Netherlands East Indies action was the second of its kind within 24 hours. Hoffman yesterday announced suspension of Marshall plan aid to China because of the icvil war raging there between Nationalist and Communist forces.

"... and on earth peace, good will toward men"

This week we celebrate the nineteen hundred and forty-eighth birthday of the greatest Man who ever lived.

The fact that so many peoples throughout the world pause in their tasks to celebrate this birthday is further evidence, if any were needed, that He still lives.

That birth in a far away Eastern manger was the most important event in the whole history of mankind. In it lies the hope of every individual and every nation for the joy, the peace and contentment that was offered when He came upon earth.

RUSSIA OVEREXPANDED?

There is a suspicion in official Washington circles that Russia has just about overexpanded and will have to back down soon in her moves for world domination.

True, the latest maneuver of the Soviets in Berlin and the great civil war in China do not directly nourish the suspicion.

Nevertheless, there are some indications that the Marshall Plan is working well and that the Soviet satellites, when they finally discover that they can get nothing from Moscow except broken promises, will move away from the Russian orbit.

The first crack in the Red front is, of course, Yugoslavia. However, despite Marshal Tito's reiterations of faith in Premier Josef Stalin, that breach is widening rather than narrowing. There appears to be a growing indication that if trouble were to come, Tito would cast his lot with the west—of dubious worth, of course, to the west.

The European situation is expected to improve mightily when the United States gets a rearmament program in full swing for the western democracies and joins in a North Atlantic military pact.

EVERY WEEK FIRE PREVENTION WEEK

Do you remember Fire Prevention Week?

It was observed last October, on a nation-wide basis. The most aggressive and intelligent effort was given to showing millions of Americans the causes of fire, the horrible results of fire, and the ways and means of preventing it. Nothing was left undone to tell a story which is of direct, personal interest to all of us.

No one can say how many people have remembered the lessons of Fire Prevention Week and are now applying them in their daily lives. The future trend of fire waste will provide a partial answer to that. But it will be a great tragedy for the nation if the Week does not produce far-reaching, long-range effects. For there is only one way to cut our fire loss to the bone—and that is by making every week a fire prevention week.

That isn't nearly so difficult as it may sound. It will cost us little in either money or time or energy. It involves such rudimentary precautions as keeping homes and places of business clean and free of trash; of maintaining heating and electrical systems in good repair; in being careful with matches and smoking materials—and in doing the other small and simple things that, when all added together, will prevent the great majority of fires.

So—make this week and every week a fire prevention week!

HEART DISEASE AND CANCER

Heart ailments and cancer are further out in front than ever among the great killers of mankind. This is the sobering lesson to be drawn from the report of the Public Health Service on causes of mortality in 1947 throughout the United States.

It's encouraging to learn that the medical profession, with the assistance of the modern "wonder drugs," is winning the fight against a wide variety of infectious diseases, among them pneumonia, influenza, tuberculosis, poliomyelitis, measles, diphtheria, malaria and scarlet fever.

But the fact that heart disease and cancer are still on the increase is ample evidence of the need for more intensive research and of more general public support of efforts to conquer them.

It would be a mistake to reason that there is an inevitability about the current trend and that no real gain is realized by saving men and women from infectious diseases only to have them succumb to non-infectious. The truth is that an advance made against any physical disorder of mankind is an advance toward the goal of all medical research—the promotion of longer, healthier, happier lives.

PRICE OF SPEED

In spite of nationwide efforts in behalf of traffic safety the highway toll in 1948 will equal that of last year, if, in fact, it does not pass that record figure.

During the first 10 months of this year 25,720 were killed in traffic accidents, compared to 26,060 in the same period in 1947. Up to October I there were 8 per cent fewer deaths than in 1947. But the margin was all but wiped out in October, with 3,290 killed, or more than 100 a day.

Officials of the National Safety Council see little hope for a reduction of the 1927 figures. The death rate in cities lower, but there has been an increase in rural sections. Only 20 of the 48 states show an improvement over the traffic death toll of last year, while many cities show decreases, some as great as one-third.

At the present rate more than 30,000 persons will be killed in traffic this year, an alarming situation when it is remembered that every effort is being made to make the streets and highways safe. Speed is held mainly responsible. American motorists are slow to recognize the fact that the price of speed is often death, and continue merily on their way.

In View Of News Of The World

By J. C. OESTREICHER, INS Foreign Director

Belief that Dutch government forces will make quick work of their Indonesian "invasion" was expressed in competent quarters today.

A swift decision will have the Dutch considerable embarrassment and observers do not believe they would have undertaken the action at this time unless certain of speedy and overwhelming victory.

There are a number of uncertain factors and some obscurity in the whole affair. But a speedy reoccupation of the entire Netherlands East Indies will place the Dutch in a powerful position even before the United Nations Security Council has had time to act.

In one of her last actions as reigning monarch, former Queen Wilhelmina promised the Indonesians their independence. A United States of Indonesia was proclaimed and this was to have come into being on January 1, 1949.

Called For Law And Order

There was a proviso, however, that called for complete law and order in the islands plus full cooperation with the Netherlands government.

The former was not achieved and the Dutch apparently had doubts of the Republican government's desire or ability to fulfill the latter.

Holland is playing for high stakes in this new burst of military activity, and the fact that casualties are being held to a minimum may prove helpful to her.

Basically, the "invasion" is justified by the charge that leaders of the so-called Republican government in Indonesia have failed to keep in check Communist-led outlaw bands which have been ravaging the countryside and infiltrating the cities.

There have been numerous charges of looting, murder and arson. These go beyond the mere responsibility of the motherland to rich and valued colonies. For among the planters and landowners who have been subjected to threats and violence there are many British and other nationalities.

Not Expected To Sponsor

For this reason, Great Britain is not expected to sponsor any stern action against Holland before the Security Council or elsewhere. The British have similar troubles of their own in nearby Malaya and reinforcements were sent not long ago to Singapore and elsewhere to stamp out Communist terrorism.

Whether there is a joint leadership of the disturbances in Malaya and in Indonesia is problematical. There is a definite pattern of resemblance between the two, however, that seems to indicate some sort of central control.

Holland's role in the affair is difficult for two reasons.

First, the operation could not be carried out in secret and the Dutch lay themselves wide open to charges of aggression that can be offset only if they can prove their case.

Second, she is deeply indebted to the western democracies for Marshall plan aid and her participation in the Western European Union.

It is true, however, that in the Benelux agreement which preceded formation of the union, the

The Parent Problem

By Garry C. Myers, Ph. D.

BOY WHO BELITTLES HIS SISTER

Several times in this column I have pointed out ways whereby a child can be unhappy, get on poorly with his schoolmates and teachers and lag at his lessons, if he feels he does not rate in his family as well as a brother or sister. His brother or sister may be an infant, be three or four, or may be attending school, too. I have printed in this column accounts of suffering school children, such as when an older child of the family is overtaken or outdistanced by a younger one. There are all sorts of other family relationships in which one child is hampered at school learning by a brother or sister. Here is a type:

"Dear Dr. Myers: My problem is with my son, seven. We have two girls, 6 and 4. The older girl began first grade this year and her brother seems to forget he knew nothing, so to speak, when he entered school last year. He laughs as she tries and keeps telling her she is dumb, etc. I am afraid if he persists he will give her an inferiority complex and cause her to quit trying. She had no kindergarten so it is hard for her, but in my opinion she is doing all right. He, however, is 'smart', very quick to grasp things and has no patience with her lack of speed.

"I have tried to explain to him and, as a last resort, have scolded again and again when he makes fun of her work—'not so good as I can do.' We praise her work but it seems to make matters worse. Please help us."

In part, I answered this mother. When your little daughter wishes to read to you or when you help her with her lessons, go to another room with her. Let the boy stay with his dad who might amuse this lad. Or, the boy might read to the baby.

Don't allow the boy to help his sister with her lessons. I am enclosing some bulletins — "Home Helps in Reading," "Home Helps in Spelling," "Jealousy," (which anybody else may have in a stamped envelope by writing me at 235 East 45th street, New York, N. Y.) Help the lad to enjoy more achievement in other directions. Ask of yourself whether he feels he is loved as much as the other children are. His belittling the sister might indicate that he is trying to build himself up and greatly feels the need of doing so. Yet you must protect the sister.

Avoid Explanation

You have explained enough to this boy why he should not belittle his sister's learning at books. Explain no more. For each offense assign him to sit alone, unamused, in a chair for exactly 25 minutes.

Other parents will recognize this problem, which may arise with children of any age. Even after children grow up and have children of their own they may compare the cousins in all sorts of ways, the offender being the parent who supposes her child surpasses a cousin.

Some parents, too, will lord it over their own child with, "You didn't know that?" Why should we ever express to a child astonishment at his ignorance, and why should anybody express like astonishment to [illegible] and me at your ignoranc[illegible]? Such expressions hardly help.

Looking At Life

By ERICH BRANDEIS

Today is "odds-and-ends" day.

Th cleaner's boy is coming in a few minutes so my wife asked me to clean out the pockets of my things that are going to be pressed or dry-cleaned this week.

Thus today's column will consist of little notes scribbled on the backs of envelopes, match box covers and a slip from the tailor on which is written in his personal English, 1 zippers on pents".

The first note is:

"Making mountains out of molehills and vice versa."

I scribbled this note on the back of an envelope when a friend made a terrific fuss about a little cold.

I had just read a story about Helen Keller and the wonderful work she has done.

It seems to me that the real heroes of life are not the ones who make mountains out of molehills, but those who can make molehills out of mountains.

Anybody can squawk about a little cold.

But the guy who can rise to fame, though blind or crippled, that's the guy for me.

Another note:

"Lying about age—married at 8."

I made this note when a visitor from San Francisco who claims to be in the early forties told us about something that happened at a dance she and her husband attended during the "Panama-Pacific Exposition".

Being somewhat on the grayish side myself, I remembered that that exposition was held in 1915—33 years ago.

Even if she were 45 now—which she doesn't admit—she must, by her own story, have been a happily married woman, attending dances with her husband at the ripe old age of 12.

Third note:

"De Gustibus non Est Disputandum."

Which is Latin for, you can't argue about tastes.

I made that note when I received two letters in the same mail about the same column.

One told me that I was doing a tremendous lot of good for my country; the other said I ought to be shot and that it would be a good thing if I broke my neck.

I suppose that is the reason why they have so many dishes on restaurant menus—and why my wife and I have looked through approximately 20 wallpaper sample-books and haven't found a bedroom paper yet that suits us. (Correction: that suits her.)

Here's a newspaper clipping.

It's about something that has enormous possibilities.

Scientists are now experimenting with a substance made from pineapple culls and alcohol that will make a tough steak tender in 30 minutes.

Perhaps we'll soon be buying our steaks in liquor stores.

Here is the boy from the cleaners.

Hints On Etiquette

Thanks for presents, letters of condolence and most "bread-and-butter" letters should be written in long-hand—not typewritten.

Washington Calling

(By Marquis Childs)

Secret Documents Have Been Taken

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—One thing about the House Un-American Activities committee is certain. The new Congress will see a bitter and probably prolonged struggle over the form the committee is to take, with a Democratic majority in control of the House.

The discovery of the secret documents and the indictment of Alger Hiss put a different light on the work of the committee. The tactics of the committee are all that its critics have said—bumbling, crude, sensational, headline seeking, often working injustice on innocent persons.

But the overwhelming fact is that secret documents have been taken from the government's files and the transmittal of these documents to a foreign power could have worked great harm to this country. If it had not been for the persistence of the committee, followed by the Hiss libel suit against Whittaker Chambers, the documents would not have come to light.

In this column there have been frequent criticisms of the methods of the committee. The method of the committee has been contrasted with the procedure of the Royal Commission in Canada where thoroughly and effectively, without any publicity whatsoever, a Communist espionage ring was exposed and the guilty persons punished.

Conscientious Member

Representative Richard Nixon of California, a Republican and perhaps the most conscientious member of the committee, is well aware of this contrast, as he is also aware of the sins of the House group. But he points out that the method of the Royal Commission was possible only under Canada's wartime espionage act.

Under that act the hearing could be held in secret. Perhaps even more important, witnesses could not escape testifying by pleading that in so doing they might incriminate themselves.

In recent months a number of witnesses before the House committee have used this provision of the law to avoid answering questions. In this way they escaped citation for contempt of Congress, the punishment which befell those who merely refused to respond.

Nixon believes that government employes, or former government employes, should not be allowed to use this loophole when the questions asked directly concern their government work and status. In other words, government servants would have a special responsibility to respond in connection with their work in government.

Among the changes in procedure that Nixon will suggest is one that would modify the right of witnesses to escape testimony on the ground of self-incrimination. Whether that one can be done under the constitutional guarantee against self-incrimination is one thing. Whether enough Democrats would join the Republican minority to put it over is quite another matter.

On the Democratic side, Representative Chet Holifield, also of California, has drafted a lengthy amendment to the rule of the House under which the committee now operates.

Thus majority vote would be required to compel witnesses to testify at a secret hearing or to produce documents. This would end the absurd and dangerous business of individual committee members going off on their own individual searching expeditions, as Reprer sentative John McDowell of Pennsylvania, a lame duck Republican, now is doing in New York.

Under the amendment proposed by Holifield, one of the leaders of the liberal wing of his party in the House, witnesses would have the right to reply to charges made against them and even to submit questions to be asked of those who had testified against them. All witnesses would "be advised of their constitutional right against self-incrimination."

Counter To Nixon's View

This last runs directly counter to Nixon's view. It would seem to encourage witnesses to use a constitutional right to balk the committee. What all this inevitably suggests is that a legislative body is not under any condition equipped or constituted to expose the crim-

One Man's Opinion

(By International News Service)

We have a few days left to send Christmas cards to those who sent us Christmas cards thinking we would send them Christmas cards.

This is the same predicament as the man who never could make his coffee and toast come out even . . . always he was half a slice ahead or half a cup behind.

And it is advisable also to chart a direct course now from the back door to some store that will be open Christmas Day.

The news from Indonesia indicates that they have received nothing they wanted for Christmas and the present visitors bear little resemblance to the Netherlands jolly St. Nicholas.

Our State department which just expected to send out a few cards for Christmas now has to write a note or two.

From Me To You

By MESEEALL

'Tis three nights before Christmas and all through the house . . . everyone is wrapping packages . . . the clerks from the stores are sitting soaking their feet . . . whispers fill the air with atmosphere of suspense . . . It's a gala time when we reach this high pitch. Long have we been waiting for this time of the year but before we can fully enjoy it . . . you will be hearing Happy New Year.

It's good news that we like to hear . . . and one of our good readers sent in the following bit of work . . . Titled, Good News:

Matthew tells the Good News
Mark, too, tell the Good News
And Luke tells us the Good News
That "Christ is born in Bethlehem".

Mary bore the Christ Child
Angels sang of Christ Child
Shepherds saw the Christ Child
The Christ Child, born in Bethlehem.

Fear not, then, ye people
Glory then, ye people
Rejoice then, all ye people
The Christ is born in Bethlehem.

Thousands upon thousands of greeting cards are passing through the mail this week . . . some just can't seem to make an early mailing time so the lads who work for Uncle Sam are working long hours . . . just to bring this good cheer to yours and my front door . . . It's a thrill to receive cards, letters and packages through the mail . . . It was "mail call" that kept hundreds of thousands of service men and women going during the war. It's mail call now after a tough day that brings sunshine into our home. Friends are wonderful . . . we all have something to be grateful for . . . in these great United States.

Strong Medicine

By PAUL GALLICO

WASHINGTON, D. C., Dec. 22.—History, sportsmanship, good manners and good sense are all against those Republican apologists now referring snippily to Mr. Truman as a "minority" president. Few GOP leaders, be it admitted, have taken this line. But even a few are too many in view of the facts which are:

SAUCE FOR THE GOOSE IS SAUCE FOR THE GANDER: Both parties have had their share of minority presidents, but the Republican-Whigs have had twice as many as the Democrats. J. Q. Adams, Taylor, Hayes, Garfield, Benjamin Harrison and Lincoln all went to the White House with less than half the total votes cast. So did Polk, Cleveland (twice), and Wilson (twice).

STOP THIEF: But only twice in history have men—both Republicans as we now use the term—become presidtnt by getting fewer votes than their nearest rival. J. Q. Adams became sixth president although he polled only 105 thousand votes to Andrew Jackson's 152 thousand. Absurdities in the electoral system threw the contest into the House of Representatives where Speaker Clay helped Adams to become president, and President Adams then made Clay his Secretary of State. Much worse, of course, was the so-called Crime of '76 when Republican Hayes finished 250 thousand votes behind Democrat Tilden and won the election by the strangest referee's decision in all American history.

"THERE'S A DIVINITY THAT SHAPES OUR ENDS": Two of our three major wars and one of the most critical periods of economic adjustment were presided over by men (Presidents Lincoln, Wilson and Cleveland) who polled a lower percentage of popularity than Mr. Truman.

Rule out "minority" presidents, and try to imagine how the Union would have been saved without Lincoln, how the concept of world government could have come to America without Wilson, how much four-square honesty and rock-ribbed good sense would have been lost to us without Cleveland. God, as Lincoln might have said, must have liked minority presidents. He made so many of them. The country and our political parties like them too. Two of the nine no-plurality Presidents died in office and another refused to succeed himself. But five of the remaining six were renominated by their parties and three of them were reelected by the nation.

"I HAVE A MANDATE": It is the hard-won, closely-decided elections which most often seem to speak for the people, whereas overwhelming majorities apparently indicate nothing except satisfaction. Thus Jackson took his 53 per cent plurality in 1832 (less than he got in 1828- as a mandate to destroy the Bank of the United States—which he did. Polk interpreted his 49 per cent plurality in 1844 as a popular command to fight a war of expansion with Mexico—and obeyed it. Lincoln with only 39 percent of the vote in 1860 understood that he had orders to resist the secession of the southern states—and did so.

But what do we find in the case of big majorities? Monroe in 1820 carried every state in the Union and proceeded to give the nation a status quo administration, evidently on the theory that he had earned a vote of confidence, nothing more. F. D. Roosevelt in 1936 carried all but two states and promptly committed the two gross errors of his political career—the attempt to pack the Supreme Court and to purge the Democratic party, neither issue having come up in the campaign.

LONG SHOTS ARE LUCKY: Most minority presidents got good breaks, but not Mr. Truman. Cleveland won his first election in the final weeks when "Rum, Romanism and Rebellion" changed a few hundred votes in New York State. Benjamin Harrison won when British Ambassador Sackville-West "endorsed" his opponent in 1888. Wilson won in 1916 when his oppontnt failed to make a polite gesture to California's Senator Johnson. Mr. Truman, however, had no such lucky accidents to explain his victory in the history books. The Republicans can only say, like Dempsey after the Tunney fight, "I forgot to duck."

PHOTO FINISH: Mr. Truman missed a popular majority against four contenders by only 0.6 per cent of the total vote. He had previously split the Democratic party from the Dixiecrats (white supremacy theory) and from the Progressives ("Get soft with Russia") on grounds which should be approved in both major parties. Yet he whipped the Republican candidate by more than two million votes and also overturned Republican majorities in both houses of Congress.

THE BITTER PILL: Truth hurts, but it may be the medicine needed to fetch the GOP out of its sickbed. It is difficult to see how the Republican party can recover its health on a diet of alibis and apology. What's needed, it seems, is for the party to come up with a leader who has no bedside manner and a gruff, Churchillian tone of telling the patient exactly what ails him.

They Say

WASHINGTON—President Truman . . . "I would rather have peace in the world than be president."

WASHINGTON — Dr. Soemitro Djojohadikoesoemo, Indonesia's minister to U.S. . . . "The Dutch offensive will gravely increase the chances of communism spreading in my nation."

NANKING — China's Premier Sun Fo . . . "We are not going to surrender outright. That would be scuttling the anti-Communist fight and China would then become a second Poland or Czechoslovakia."

WASHINGTON—Paul G. Hoffman, Marshall plan chief . . . "I believe Korea can be made self-sustaining in a reasonable length of time. Russian cooperation could shorten the period of time by at least two years."

Just Folks

By EDGAR A. GUEST

WHO EVER OUTGROWS CHRISTMAS?

When they speak of Christmas Day,
"It's for children!" some folks say.
Just for little girls and boys,
Wanting dolls and glittering toys.
Well, beside the chimney flue
I shall hang my stocking, too.

As I did last year, again
I shall hang my "number ten"
And be there on time to see
To exclaim: "Why, bless my soul!
It's another piece of coal."

"Just for children!" No, sir-ee!
It's a day of joy for me;
And that piece of coal I get
Proves I haven't grown up yet.
Seeing that, they'll shout with joy:
"Grandpa's been a naughty boy!"

Just for children, am I told?
Then, I still am seven years old.

'OBS UPON A TIME

AMSTERDAM, N. Y., is the birthplace of film actress Lucille Bremer, but she took dancing lessons in Philadelphia when she was seven, and at 12 was appearing as a ballerina at the Philadelphia Opera House. When Lucille was 16 she joined the famous Rockettes in New York, and then the chorus of Panama Hattie. Lucille got the ingenue lead in Lady in the Dark, which led to a Hollywood contract. She has only been on the screen since 1944.

KIM SIGLER, Republican governor of Michigan until January, 1949, when newly elected Democrat G. Mennen Williams will take over, was born in Schuyler, Neb., but studied at the University of Michigan and received his law degree at the Detroit Law school Sigler was associated with law firms in Detroit, practiced his profession in Hastings, Mich., and later formed a partnership in Battle Creek, Mich. He was appointed special prosecutor of a grand jury to investigate legislative graft in the state during 1943 and 1946 and was elected governor of Michigan in 1947.

The World and the Mud Puddles

VISIONARY CLAIMS

By refusing to consider an appeal from a Federal District Court of Appeals challenging the validity of the 1947 act outlawing portal-to-portal pay for large groups of workers, the United States Supreme Court virtually places its judicial approval on the act.

The portal-to-portal pay issue was never conceived in good faith. It was a brazen attempt of labor dictators and their legal advisers to mulct American employers out of billions in wages, in contradiction to all precedent and established custom. The widespread effort to enforce collection of this compensation took the form of a racket in certain cities, where workers were urged, through advertising, to file claims—with the proviso that the legal counsel would share generously in the amounts collected.

It was estimated at the height of this portal-to-portal agitation that the cost to American industry would total the huge sum of six billion dollars. There can be no doubt that if some of these suits had been successful scores, and perhaps hundreds, of United States factories would have become bankrupt—the result being to deprive thousands of workers of employment.

The ruling of the highest court is based on justice and common sense.

Confession In Chicago Case Is Discounted

CHICAGO, Dec. 22. — (INS) —Chicago police today discounted the "confession" of Herlindo Perez Arias is the slayer of 10-year-old Roberta Rinearson following a lie detector test.

Authorities believe that Arias may be suffering from dementia praecox, a mental disorder, and said that he was to have been committed to a psychopathic hospital. They added that he is an admitted user of marijuana.

State's Attorney John S. Boyle said Arias repeated his previous "confession" during a lie test but added:

"If Arias is competent, then the test shows he is lying. But if he is mentally ill, then the test means nothing."

Police also said Arias was virtually eliminated as a suspect when relatives insisted he was at home drunk at the time the slaying took place.

Netherlands subscribed as a colonial power. One of the principal tenets of this agreement is the pooling of resources among the world's empires for mutual prosperity and defense.

Holland holds that if the situation in Indonesia is permitted to get out of hand, a major segment of the Benelux pact will have been torn away to the detriment not only of the Netherlands but to all the world's democracies which are struggling against the infiltration of communism.

On this the Dutch doubtless will base their case as a protector of democracy and an upholder of freedom, pointing out their own risks in an operation on difficult terrain and against a shrewd and insidious foe. The sooner they can take things over entirely and clear the way for a fresh start, the more conclusive will their case automatically become.

"COLORS AND BEES"

Experts tell us that nature gives flowers bright colors so that bees may be attracted to them. The bees crawl into the flowers to get the nectar. They also carry pollen from one flower to another.

Some vegetables have bright colors too. Perhaps these colors are attractive to people. Maybe people are more likely to eat the vegetables.

Some of these brightly colored vegetables are rich in vitamines. They are good for people to eat inal activities of spies and saboteurs.

They are full of vitamines and taste good besides.

The attempt to do so is to pervert the legislatvie process, and that is true even when the effort happens to be successful. Enforcing the law, which includes catching spies, is the function of the executive branch of the government. Attorney General Tom C. Clark has said he would recommend changes in the espionage laws, which are obviously inadequate. With better safeguards the Department of Justice can prevent or detect espionage. The Un-American Activities committee must first of all seek to restrict its activity to what concerns legislation. That should be possible now that the time for political headline hunting is almost over.

Aunty, You've Made The Pants Real Big

PITTSBURGH, (INS) — When folks say Leo Devine is a "big man," they mean just that.

There is no better authority for this statement than Devine's aunt, Mrs. Margaret Ohm of Pittsburgh.

Mrs. Ohm, a dressmaker, took three weeks recently—working "a little bit now and a little bit again" —to sew together a giant pair of trousers for her 550-pound nephew.

The pants are six feet around at the waist and eight and one-half feet at the hips. Mrs. Ohm used three yards of 60-inch navy blue materials. The plants have a reinforced seat and measure 41 inches from the 28-inch cuff to the waist.

Devine takes a size 12 shoe and a size 13 sock. His shirts are 27 inches from seam to seam across the shoulders.

Children of members of the Volant Mother's club were entertained at a Yule party Monday evening in the Volant school building. Mothers and small guests, numbering 75, enjoyed the assembly.

Charles Robinson and Henry Hamilton, introduced by Mrs. Paul Shaw, showed several Christmas moving pictures. A tree decorated the room, where Santa Claus gave a treat to the children.

Auto Video Held Accident Threat

Installation of a television received in a motor vehicle when it can attract the attention of the driver is suicidal, the National Safety Council declares.

The subject of television in automobiles was discussed by the council's traffic and transportation conference at the recent National Safety Congress.

"Keeping one's eyes on the road ahead and on the traffic ahead, behind and on both sides is the first essential of safe driving," the council's statement said.

The council drew a sharp distinction between television and ordinary radio receivers. "With extra caution," the council said, "even a totally deaf man can drive safely. A blind man cannot drive at all."

The conference directed further study by the council's staff of actual and proposed television installations visible to passengers only, as in the rear compartment of a taxicab. Even here, it was pointed out, an ingenious driver could easily install an additional mirror which would make the television received visible from the driver's seat.

Fenati Speaks Of Conditions He Found In Italy

Local Manufacturer Recounts Visit To Birthplace In Po River Valley

Humbert Fenati, head of the Fenati Brick Company, who visited his birthplace at Cotignolo, in the Po River Valley, in Italy last summer, recounted his experiences before the New Castle Lions Club, at their weekly luncheon meeting in The Castleton, Tuesday noon.

When the Allied armies were poised for their advance into the district in the fall of 1944, he watched the operations with great interest, and when they bogged down in October 1944, he understood just why they had, because the Sinio river, as it flows through the district, is confined between dikes which have been built through the flat plateau area, to keep it from overflowing onto the surrounding area. Sometimes the river rises within these dikes several feet above the surrounding area. These dikes formed a natural barrier, which could not be crossed.

Took Terrific Beating

The drive was not resumed until next spring, he stated, but in the meantime, the town of Cotignolo took a terrific beating, being bombed by plane over a hundred times more than Cassino was. The residents who remained in the town, a place of 9,000 population, took shelter among the bombed ruins.

Mr. Fenati's two sisters live there today, and his parents are buried nearby. His visit was filled with pathos, as he viewed the ruins, but the people are making a brave struggle to regain their former status, and are more than grateful for the aid they have received from the United States.

In gratitude for this help, they are willing to fight again to prevent Communism from engulfing their country, because they realize democracy is the hope of the world.

Mr. Fenati flew from the United States to Italy and back again, the entire trip taking only 50 hours flying time.

Guests of the club yesterday included: T. E. Gettings, of New Castle; Melvin Moorhouse, of New Bedford; and J. E. Willard, of West Middlesex.

A. Lewis Conn was presented with his membership certificate.

Predict Federal Rent Control To Extend For Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Rep. Spence (D) Ky., incoming chairman of the House Banking and Currency Committee, predicted today that federal rent control will be extended by the 81st Congress for at least one year.

Spence, who conferred this week with President Truman, termed continuation of rent ceilings "an absolute necessity" and asserted that the law will be given "teeth" to insure enforcement.

The present rent controls are scheduled to expire March 31.

In addition, Spence indicated that he will assign top priority to legislation which will:

1. Give President Truman standby price control and rationing powers.
2. Reestablish allocations to channel scarce materials to home builders.
3. Provide a long-range housing program patterned on the Taft-Ellender-Wagner bill.

Aged Residents Of County Home Enjoy Christmas Program

Christmas Cheer Brought To Residents Of Home By Various Church Groups Tuesday

Probably the most enjoyable Christmas program ever presented at the Lawrence County Home, took place on Tuesday evening in the beautifully decorated chapel of the home with every resident of the home except the bedfast on hand for the event.

Directing the program was Rev. F. P. Sulmonetti, who for eight years has conducted services there and he in turn introduced his helpers and other individuals who also have been holding weekly meetings at the home for the aged. Assisting were: Albert Martin, Howard Covert, Woodson Collins, Mrs. Joseph Masters, Rev. J. H. Boon, Mrs. H. H. Marlin, Mrs. Nettie Peacock, Mrs. F. P. Sulmonetti and Ethna and Earl Sulmonetti.

Program Presented

Following introductory remarks, Ethna favored with a Scripture memory lesson and song, and Earl followed with a violin solo. Rev. Boon brought an impromptu talk on the meaning of Christmas and the prophecy concerning it.

During the outstanding program Rev. Sulmonetti introduced Mrs. G. H. Bolinger, matron of the home, who presented one by one, every member of her competent staff, who help her in making life pleasant for the residents of the county home. Mrs. Bolinger, with her cohorts had beautifully decorated the home throughout with Christmas trees, mantels, and other outstanding decorations, in order to instil the Christmas spirit to the shut-ins.

Santa Appears

Concluding the program, Santa Claus in all his joviality, appeared cheering the various individuals up immensely as he went about shaking hand and passing out apples and oranges. Santa was vividly portrayed by Robert Shatzer, employe of the Johnson-Bronze company, who was made possible through Richard E. Rentz of The New Castle News.

Invaluable assistance was given by the chaplaincy ladies committee consisting of Mrs. Joel McKee, Mrs. Joseph MacKenzie, Mrs. Jess Kerr, Mrs. David Nesbit, Mrs. A. W Hanna, Mrs. F. P. Sulmonetti and Mrs. Kenneth Lutz, the latter who was unable to be present due to a death in her family. The ladies served ice cream and cake, candies and gave each person in the chapel and in the hospital wards a present. The gifts and refreshments were made possible through various churches, the Salvation Army and other organizations about the city.

DRY ICE SHOOTS PISTOL

EVANSVILLE, Ind.—John Calling, an engineer, has invented a pistol that uses dry ice as a substitute for gunpowder. Calling says the pistol shoots a bullet with greater force than an air gun. A cylinder containing four ounces of dry ice is under the chamber. When the ice "melts" it forms carbon dioxide gas which creates 1000 pounds per square inch.

THE FAMILY SCRAPBOOK

By DR. ERNEST G. OSBORNE

Hitching Your Child's Wagon To A Star

Of course, we parents want our children to do well. We are anxious that they do good work in school and that they bring the family credit through the way in which they do the work on the jobs they take after school or on week ends. If they belong to the Scouts, we like to see them get many awards for achievement. This is all very natural, but it can go too far.

Parental pressure for high-powered achievement often brings stammering and shyness. Or it may build in the child an uncomfotrable feeling of never really being succesful. No matter how well he does, he will feel that he should have done better. Such pressure also may develop heightened feelings of competition with other youngsters—a negative reaction to the success of friends and acquaintances.

Yes, we want our children to achieve but that achievement should not be at the expense of their emotional security. It is better to help children learn to enjoy activity, to do things for the satisfaction that the doing brings rather than always to be trying to be best.

U.S. Reconsiders Plans For Rearming

Plan To Arm Western Hemisphere Countries May Not Be Carried Out

By JOHN A. REICHMANN
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22—Recent seizures of power by military groups in Latin-America caused the United States today to reconsider its plans for the arming of Western hemisphere armies and other joint defense projects.

The problem of establishing a strong Western hemisphere military machine, which the United States would like to have, has been high on the list of matters projected by the administration.

Large amounts of surplus war materials have been sold the American republics and in some instances this material has figured in revolutionary operations.

The United States also has proposed that the military equipment of all American republics be standardized so they could be interchangeable in case of hostilities. In addition the U.S. has suggested that training methods be similar for greater efficiency.

But it was reported today that the American government might feel that it would be better not to make these armies so efficient if the military is going to use this equipment to upset the democratic processes sought by the U.S. in the Western hemisphere.

There is believed to be an added danger. Some officials argued that if the military groups are likely to try to take over power where they have the strength, then the civilian governments are likely to be wary of them.

Court House

Vote List Check Shows 13 Errors

Check Shows Voters Casting Ballots In Wrong Precincts On November 2

OTHER EVENTS IN COURT HOUSE

In a check of the votes cast on November 2, A. Lewis Conn, chief clerk of the Permanent Registration Bureau has found 13 votes which were cast in the wrong precincts.

From an examination of the records it appears to be merely error, with no thought of any intentional fraud. In at least one case a voter who had moved from one precinct to another, asked for a ballot in his new precinct and the board gave it to him.

It is believed both voters and boards might have applied an intra-precinct rule in the matter of change of address. If a voter moves within his precinct, after the last day for change of address, he may change his address at the polls and get a ballot. If he moves into another precinct he cannot vote until he is registered in the precinct.

Apparently some voters thought they could return to the precinct from which they had moved and where they were registered, and vote there. This is not the law, but it was done.

Toonerville Trolley:— By FONTAINE FOX

Around Hollywood

By FRANK NEILL
(International News Service Staff Correspondent)

HOLLYWOOD, Dec. 22.—Direct Alfred Hitchcock, Hollywood's master of suspense, has invaded the sacred precinct of the screen title.

He had the utter audacity to give credit to three previously unsung heroes.

For the first time in movie history the lowly "grip" has had his name listed among members of the production staff as they flash on the title run-off for Hitchcock's revolutionary film experiment, "Rope."

"The "Grip" is a guy named Morris Rosen. Along with camera operator Edward Fitzgerald, camera technician Paul Hill and boom operator Richard Emmons, Rosen was given recognition under the heading of "Operators of Comera Movement."

Drastic Departure

This was a drastic departure for Hollywood. Always before only fantastically high-salaried stars, directors, producers and writers have had screen credit.

Hitchcock admitted: "I never could have made this picture without those four horsemen."

This quartet of camera-boom cavaliers made it possible for Hitchcock to shoot the murder-chiller starring Jimmy Stewart without ever stopping the camera. The feat had never been attempted before. Movie-makers thought it impossible.

The 90 minutes of playing time of the film are actually 90 consecutive minutes out of a single day during which a horrible murder is committed and two young stranglers are brought to justice.

Hollywood usually films the last scene of a picture on the first day of production. And a movie company hardly ever gets more than a one minute of action in the camera at any one time.

Excellent Work

The four experts shot "Rope" in sequence, and got ten minutes of action in the can every time they rolled—a full reel of 1,000 feet on each "take" without a single "cut."

Rosen sat on the end of the one-ton boom steering like the tillerman on the trailer of a fire truck to guide the huge electrically-driven structure with the camera on the end. Every time the actors went into a three-room apartment he would hit a marked point within an eighth of an inch.

Emmons had to manipulate the boom vertically to an exact tenth of a degree so that half of Jimmy Stewart's body would not be out of the camera "finder" when they were supposed to see his full figure.

Double Duty

Fitzgerald, operating the camera itself, had the double duty of signalling the boys on all their movements and keeping pesfect composition within his postcard-sized "finder," which eventually would be the picture itself.

Hill had to keep the camera lens in focus by remote control even when it jumped from the initials inside a hat crown (an important plot point) back to a room filled with guests and the New York skyline lurking in the background.

Already the four have been tabbed for a special "Oscar" when the academy awards are dished out at the annual shindig next March.

Libary To Close On Christmas Day

If your library books are due December 24 be sure to get them back to the library or renewed by 6 o'clock Friday, as the library will follow its custom of many years of closing at 6 p. m. on Christmas eve, instead of remaining open during the evening.

This closing hour will affect East Side Branch also. Therefore all books due December 24 and not returned or renewed by 6 o'clock will be three days overdue when the library re-opens on Monday, December 27.

The process of renewing by telephone is printed on each book pocket. Call 2103, give date due, title of each book and your borrower's number.

Latin-American Revolts Cause Concern To U.S.

International Conference Is Called To Consider Disturbing Situation

By JAMES LEE
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22. — The United States expressed serious concern over the outbreak of Latin-American revolutions and called an international conference on the disturbing situation.

The State Department declared in a formal statement that the United States has informed a number of other American governments of "its growing concern with respect to the overthrow of properly elected governments by military forces in certain of the countries of this hemisphere."

Prompted By Revolts

The move was prompted by recent revolutions in Peru, El Salvador, and Venezuela, attempted coups in Chile, Bolivia, Panama, Ecuador, and Paraguay, and the abortive "invasion" of Costa Rica.

The State Department indicated that a full-dress, formal conference might be desirable.

However, Lincoln C. White, department spokesman, said the United States is awaiting the reaction of other countries before determining whether the consultations should be on this basis or held under more informal circumstances.

White said that about half of the governments canvassed have replied to the United States proposals.

The revolts in Latin America have been regarded in some instances as dangerous to U. S. interests, particularly those in that general area of the Panama canal.

As yet official recognition has not been given by the United States to the military juntas which were set up by the revolutionaries.

TAKE YOUR CHOICE

SALT LAKE CITY—The spelling, Sugar House or Sugarhouse (take your choice), is a hot issue in Utah's largest suburban shopping center near Salt Lake City. The post office substation stamps its mail with one-worded Sugarhouse. Ten percent of the merchants spell it that way. But the chamber of Commerce and 90 per cent of the merchants use the two-worded Sugar House.

Many Santa Letters Reach Pittsburgh Post Office

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS)—With only three days left till Santa Claus rides again, the merry old boy is busier than ever.

But hurried or not, Santa is taking time to read all the letters his many little friends wrote him—about 1,000 arrived for him at the Pittsburgh post office.

The letters reveal a trace of skepticism in some of the youthful writers, others bring a chuckle from the Jolly St. Nick, and some bring a tear.

There's little Amy, who wrote: "For Christmas I want a new pair of legs, Santa, some red candy and a skipping rope for when I get my new legs. I want the legs so I can walk and go to school with my sister."

Nancy knows Santa won't be able to visit her house this year because her Mommy and Daddy told her so. But if he could make it, Nancy would like Santa to bring her and her three sisters "new shoes so we can go to school."

Eight-year-old Melvin has served notice on Santa that he will be waiting up for him this year. He wrote:

"That's because I want to see you come down our chimney like my Daddy said."

Another doubtful wrote:

"Bring me a horse, a wagon, and a picture of yourself. And write an answer to my letter."

Still another, who had received an answer from Santa Claus, wrote back to inform Santa that he "wasn't always good" like Santa said he'd heard.

The letters are being turned over to Santa's helpers—local clubs, organizations and individuals—who will see that Santa's orders are carried out, and that the neediest get what they want.

Wolves Club Officers Named

Joseph Frengel Elected President Of Civic Organization For Year 1949

At the Tuesday evening dinner-meeting of the Wolves club held at The Castleton, officers for the year 1949 were named:

President, Joseph Frengel; first vice president, Ted Castele; second vice president, Frank Bordonaro; secretary, Paul Failla; treasurer, Anthony Mastriani; sergeant at arms, William DeCarbo; and publicity, Marshall Ruscetti and Joseph Cozza.

James Lombardo, social chairman, announced that all plans for the New Year's eve party have been completed and that all reservations have been received. Guests will attend from Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Youngstown and Ellwood City, and the affair is semi-formal and promises to be one of the most gala affairs ever held.

Anthony Marino introduced his guests last evening: Vince Lamorella, Wallace Conti, Anthony Cialella and Ralph Paolone. Paolone, outstanding football player on Ne-Ca-Hi's team, spoke of his experiences and stated that the Youngstown game was "tough". New Castle will have a better team next year, he predicted.

Orland Caiazza's guest was Sam Perrone of San Antonio, Texas, and Fred DeCarbo's guest was Ted Richards, district manager of Norwalk Trucking company.

Tuesday, January 4, is the next meeting date.

Sing Carols At First National

Employes Of Bank And Trust Company Have Fifteen-Minute Sing Each Morning

If employes of the First National Bank of Lawrence county and the Union Trust company do not have the real Christmas spirit this year, it will not be because they don't start the day out right.

Each morning during the Christmas season they have been gathering at the bank 15 minutes before opening time, and under the leadership of Vice President Joel S. McKee, have been enjoying a period of carol singing.

All the officers of the bank participate, including President Alex Crawford Hoyt, who believes that it is a worthwhile and enjoyable effort.

Robert Reid was an American figure and decorative painter, who was born in Stockbridge, Mass., in 1862. Among his decorations are the Massachusetts State House, Boston; the Library of Congress, and 20 stained glass windows for the Rogers' Memorial Church, Fairhaven, Mass. His "Fleur-de-lis" is in the Metropolitan museum, New York. He died in 1929.

Frances Willard Union

Frances Willard W. C. T. U. met in the home of Mrs. Harry Glover, 409 Boyles avenue, December 19, when Miss Laura Bell, president, opened the assembly with prayer.

Mrs. J. E. Rogers, devotional leader, read the Christmas story from the second chapter of John. "O, Come All Ye Faithful" was played on the radio-phonograph.

Mrs. C. N. Moore, who led in prayer, also pleased with "A Dream", a reading. Mrs. Moore, reporting on "International Relations for Peace", stressed the "Anna Lee Prayer" and "Prayer for America" from The Union Signal. Mrs. A. W. Zeigler told of her visits to the county jail to talk with inmates every Sunday evening.

President And Family Prove Good Tenants

By MARTHA KEARNEY
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—President Truman and his family have won the reputation of being good neighbors after more than a month's probationary period at Blair House.

The endorsement comes from tenants of a house on Jackson place just around the corner from the interim presidential residence. Their back windows face the rear of Blair House.

And, despite what is described as the fancy footwork of a hopeful landlord, they find that being near-neighbors of the president has done nothing to take the joy out of life.

The landlord is said to have insinuated in mid-November that the secret service had ordered a moratorium on parties by the tenants in question for the duration of the chief executive's residence around the corner.

This, the tenants report, brought an immediate and energetic reaction. A check with the Secret Service, however, is said to have revealed that the landlord was merely indulging in wishful thinking.

In any event, they say, the proximity of the President has done nothing to put a damper on the social life of Jackson Place.

Fears Set At Rest

Their fears have been set at rest on two other scores.

They have been permitted to retain their long-time parking privileges in an alley practically cheek by jowl with the backyard of Blair house although they despaired of them when the Chief Executive moved across the street.

Furthermore they have so far been free from any excessive attention from the District of Columbia police. Now and then, on a clear night, they can spot a policeman from their back windows but otherwise they are not aware of any oppressive presence around the house.

The Secret Service did make a check of their vital statistics which, it is reported, was quite painless.

And now that their wariness has worn off they find it rather exhilarating to have the nation's number one family in the neighborhood.

The Uruguayan Government power monopoly has launched a $55,000,000 development plan covering hydroelectrification projects and improvement of the telephone service.

To Face Charge Of Driving Car In Altoona Case

HOLLIDAYSBURG, Pa., Dec. 22—(INS)—Louis Zawadski, alias Louis Spruicio, 45, was in the Blair county jail today awaiting a hearing on charges that he drove the car in the $ 20,000 holdup of Daniel (Dutch) Lamont in Altoona November 10.

Zawadski, who waived extradition, arrived in Hollidaysburg from Hartford, Conn., last night with Altoona detectives R. C. Sell and Bernard Zeigler and State Police Detectives Harry Eisenberg, Harrisburg.

The date of the hearing has not been set by Alderman William Witzel.

Also in the Blair county jail is Mrs. Virginia Gresham, 30, of New York, who is said to be the owner of the expensive car Zawadski is accused of driving.

A third suspect, Frank Ciraolo, New York, is scheduled for a habeas corpus hearing in New York today. He is fighting extradition.

State Police Issue Yule Safety Warning

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—You can give your fellow motorist the finest Christmas present in the world if you drive with sufficient care to protect his life, the Pennsylvania State Police asserted today.

"During this time set aside to honor the birth of a baby born nearly 2,000 years ago, death seems strangely out of place, but a modern invention and carelessness will bring tragedy during this traditionally happy season unless every automobile driver is careful," said Colonel C. M. Wilhelm, State Police Commissioner. "The best Christmas present you can give your highway neighbor is to drive in a manner that will not endanger his life".

The Commissioner emphasized that sudden storms and cold weather can combine to cause additional driving hazards. He suggested that all persons starting on a trip check the automobile safety equipments—particularly windshield wipers, brakes, tires and chains.

Colonel Wilhelm also had a word of caution for those who imbibe of holiday "cheer", saying, "If you feel you must drink, let some one else do the driving."

HIGHWAY FATALITIES

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—The Bureau of Highway Safety has reported 1,276 highway fatalities in Pennsylvania in the first 10 months of this year, an increase of 30 over the same period of 1947. The increase was due to a rise of 74 in rural highway deaths while urban fatalities declined 44 in the period.

Christmas Event At City Mission

Turkey, mashed potatoes, chocolate milk, cup cakes and all the rest of the trimmings that go to make up a bountiful yuletide feast were on the menu Tuesday evening, at the City Mission, 17 South Mercer street, when boys and girls between the ages of eight and 16 were guests of the Mission.

The large group assembled in the Mission at six o'clock and following an impromptu program, sat down to the dinner which was made possible by various friends of the mission. Concluding the event, each child was presented with a nice gift each of which was made possible by firms, Sunday school classes and others about the city.

Aiding in serving the group of youngsters were: Mrs. C. A. Smith, chairman; Mrs. Wyatt R. Campbell, Mrs. James White, Mrs. Anna Harris, Mrs. William Dewberry, Mrs. John Gwin.

Argument On Soft Drink Tax On January 26

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Argument on bottlers' suits testing the constitutionality of the state's soft drink tax is scheduled to be resumed in Dauphin county court January 26.

In closing testimony of initial arguments yesterday, Deputy Attorney General Harry F. Stambaugh told the court that approximately $750,000 in "pop" taxes is being withheld by bottlers pending a decision on the validity of the levy.

President Judge J. Paul Rupp later ruled out the testimony but permitted Stambaugh to insert testimony that there are soft drink assessments which have been unpaid.

Bottlers claim that the levy, which is expected to return $27,000,000 to the state during the current biennium, violates both the state and federal constitutions.

INJURY PAYS OFF

DENTON, Tex.—Donald Grubb of Irving, Tex., sprained his ankle and it brought him luck. His registration at North Texas State College here was delayed because of the injury. When he did register two weeks later, he found himself to be the 5000th student to do so and received a "treasure chest" of merchandise from merchants.

LUCK OUT OF LUCK

GRANDVIEW, Tex. — Albert Luck lost his key to the new home he was building but found it the next day hanging in the door. What he didn't find was a $150 electric saw and one commode, taken after he had left the incomplete home unlocked.

The number of diesel locomotives in the United States increased from 1,267 before World War II to more than 5,000 in 1948.

Library Extends Holiday Message

Among the patrons to whom the Public Library extends its holiday greetings this year are many new borrowers recently added to the library register.

Some of these are long-time residents of the city who have just discovered that the library can serve their needs, and others are new-comers to town. Some say "I haven't borrowed a book since I was in school" and make the happy discovery that the library ministers to their grownup needs in books as well as providing them with the "required reading" of their student days.

To all of them the public library extends its best wishes for a pleasant Christmas and a happy New Year. The library is free for use to any resident of New Castle. The bi-monthly forum on great books is open to all. The poetry group is sponsored by the public library. A weekly broadcast on WKST is another feature of your public library.

Be assured that during the months to come your public library will do all in its power to make your year a happy one.

More than 4,000 passengers arrived, and over 4,000 departed by air at the Panama Canal Zone Airport in a recent month.

S. AND S. CLUB MEMBERS GUESTS

Miss Frances Capperino, of 501 Florence avenue, was hostess to members of tht S. and S. club, in her home, Tuesday evening.

The living room was appropriately decorated in keeping with the yuletide season.

The evening was spent informally in group singing and playing games, with prizes going to the Misses Nancy Iozzi, Jilda DePolis and Vivian Phillips. The club token was captured by Miss Helen Iozzi.

The girls drew novelty gifts from a grab bag, after which secert pals for the past year were revealed and gifts were exchanged.

Special guests for the evening were Miss Laura Tempesta and Miss Vivian Phillips. They were presented with lovely gifts by the hostess.

At a late hour a delicious lunch was served at a beautifully decorated table. The hostess was assisted by Miss Nellie Capperino.

The next meeting will be in the home of Miss Jilda DePolis, 736 Ridge street, January 4.

Stars And Stripes But Not Forever

REDMOND, Ore.—(INS)—The girls at school had practiced marching and baton twirling three hours every afternoon. They practiced to the tune of "Stars and Stripes Forever", the only phonograph record with just the right tempo.

After one vigorous session, the man who was in charge of cement work in the new gymnasium finally walked up to the instructor, plunked down an album of records, and took "the Stars and Stripes" off the phonograph, saying:

"You're driving me crazy. When I was in the army in Louisiana I woke up to that march every day for six months."

The instructor considered it a good trade and drilled the next day with five new records. She took them back to the foreman the next day and explained:

"I'm sorry, we can't seem to march to those"

The man replied: "I'm sorry too, lady, but I've busted that 'Stars and Stripes' Forever' into little pieces and mixed them into the concrete."

PAYMENT TO JOBLESS

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—Ramsey S. Black, state treasurer, announced that unemployment compensation benefit payments to jobless Pennsylvania workers during the week ended December 10, 1948, totaled $898,082 paid in 51,735 checks.

Mr. and Mrs. Milton G. Woods, of Highland avenue, have left for New York City, where they will spend the holidays with their son, William B. Woods, and family.

Children Get Personal Phone Talk To Santa

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Hundreds of youngsters are getting the thrill of their young lives—a personal telephone conversation with Santa Claus—all because of a kindly gentleman's "joke" with a little girl.

"Santa" is David Owens, a tall, slim and beardless 57-year-old gentleman, almost the direct opposite of the accepted description of St. Nick. By day, he is custodian of the War Assets Administration building in Harrisburg.

It all started one evening several weeks ago when four-year-old Donna Coulson of West Fairview dialed the wrong number while telephoning a playmate.

Owens received the call and when asked who was speaking, replied jokingly:

"Oh, this is Santa Claus."

Quick to take advantage of such a stroke of luck, the pert little Donna began bombarding Owens with her Christmas wants.

The word spread quickly, and before long the Owens' telephone was ringing constantly with young "believers" desiring to talk to Santa Claus.

Owens joined wholeheartedly in the "make believe" and even obtained a set of sleigh bells as sound effects for Santa's reindeer.

He even goes so far as to advise some of the children's parents of the youngsters' desires.

"I love to do this, and I'm so happy little Donna accidentally started the whole thing, because I believe the world of make-believe is wonderful for boys and girls.'

But he sums it up best with a bit of his own philosophy:

"It wouldn't hurt any of us to spread a little sunshine to do away with the selfishness in the world today."

Y.W.C.A. Nursery Plans Announced

Mrs. David George Is New Chairman Of Nursery Now Planned For Wednesday Afternoon

Response to the Y.W.C.A. nursery has been gratifying that it was decided to continue the day nursery, Mrs. David George, the new chairman, announced today. January 5 is the date for nursery day.

The one change is that mothers would rather have the nursery day on Wednesday, instead of Monday. The hours will be the same, from 1:30 p.m. until 4:30 p.m.

Questionnaires were filled out by mothers and they stated that the nursery was an excellent plan. They suggested the change of day, but also said the hours were suitable.

Mrs. Webster, former chairman, is unable to continue and Mrs. David George will continue in her place.

The rules are the same. The child must be of walking age, clean, and having no colds nor disease.

Mrs. Charles Bacon will be Mrs. George's aide. They will see how the Wednesday arrangements suit all mothers and the continuance of the nursery will depend on the attendance.

There will be no nursery next week, however, on Wednesday, January 5, the nursery will again get under way.

Movie-House Television Is Shown In Britain

LONDON, Dec. 22. — (INS)— Movie-house television, which made its debut in Britain last night, was adjudged today almost as good as regularly projected films.

A private audience at Bromley, in Kent, saw television transmitted to a screen 16-feet by 12-feet.

The British Broadcasting Co. and the J. Arthur Rank Corporation both participated in the Video-screening of scenes from Alexandra Palace and the Crystal Palace.

Movie critics said the pictures were "almost as bright" as a regular film, and that details appeared "extremely sharp."

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS)—A 32-year-old Negro was being questioned by police today as a suspect in the Kensinger murder case.

Detectives last night arrested Charles T. Dixon of Pittsburgh on charges of carrying a concealed weapon.

According to police, his appearance is similar to that of the man who witnesses saw fleeing the Kensinger alley way the night of December 10 when 12-year-old Carole Lee Kensinger was stabbed 36 times.

Police picked up the man in the Brushton-Homewood area and found an Army combat knife strapped to his waist.

Street Corner Santa Greatly Disillusioned

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(INS)—The oldest street-corner-Santa in New York City is a disillusioned bachelor who finds it an effort to "Ho-Ho-Ho."

Ten years ago, Henry Windeler was a good "Ho-Ho-Ho" man. He was young (63), well-paid (4 a day) and idealistic (liked kids).

Today, at his papier mache chimney on 42nd Street, he is bitter because:

(1) Little girls pull his whiskers.

(2) Little boys are too smart for their knickers.

(3) Salvation Army musicians get all the attention.

Worst Year

"This is the worst year I've seen yet," mumbled Santa Windeler. "The weather's been worse before—but the people have never been this bad."

In his job as jolly representative for the Mission Tabernacle of the Volunteers of America, he insists he has to "do more work than those inside Santas."

He stands out in the cold—they sit on warm padded thrones. Furthermore, he has to get contributions from the mothers of the kids he banters with, instead of the other way around.

"Business is awful," he groans. "Used to be I'd get 20 bucks in a half-day. Now I'm lucky to get 20 for eight hours!"

Sometimes, he says, he wishes he could move his chimney out to Fifth Avenue. "Meet a wealthier class of people over there, see?"

Windeler volunteered for St. Nick duty 10 years ago after he lost his job in the grocery business, his profession for 25 years. He was a natural for the job

No Living Version

Col. William R. Apetz, who hired him, reports that he ntver had to be padded, keeps regular hours, is a non-drinker and always limits his lunch hour to 25 minutes.

But the "Santa" himself knows he's no living version of the spirit of Christmas.

"I've gotten too tired of this 'Ah, you ain't Santa Claus' business," he says.

"I get too tired of asking what they want for Christmas and having the kids say something like 'I want corned beef and cabbage. How's that?' These kids today—they've changed."

After getting all this off his ample chest, Windeler sqoatted down and had a heart-to-heart chat with a five-year-old blonde.

"See what I got to do to get a contribution?" he said as she trotted away. Then looking after her, he added:

"Never was lucky enough to have a family myself."

California's Death valley is 276 feet below sea level.

Volant Lions Have Christmas Event

Volant Lions' club was host to the children of the community at their annual Christmas party. It had been planned to hold the party at the ball park but due to bad weather, it was held in Homer Moose's spacious garage.

Music and a visit from Santa formed the entertainment for about 200 youngsters and club members. Later in the evening, Santa distributed his gifts, then went on his way.

Cash farm income from milk in the United States increased from $98 million in 1932 to $3,716 million in 1946.

BEDROOM FURNITURE

"I have an ugly Victorian bureau, the mirror of which goes up in a hideous steeple. Please suggest something I can substitute for it."

Answer: Try a chest of drawers with a separate mirror hung above it. Such chests may be found in a great variety of styles to harmonize with various types of homes. But realize that if the room is small, a massive chest would be unsuited to it. Choose a design which is individual but not eccentric.

You might, if you prefer, and if it is a woman's room you are furnishing, have a dresser—one of those small kindney-shaped ones with separate mirror and dainty skirt to match your curtains. Of course, a chest of drawers is more practical, since it has drawer space and a dresser has not.

Question: I have recently moved into a house in which there are built-in bookcases. They are very attractive, but too deep, causing my books to slide back. Can you suggest a remedy for this?

Answer: Tack strips of wood across the back of each shelf, leaving just enough room to suit the depth of the books that are to go in it. These strips will be hidden by the books. Or put in a double row of books—the back rows including those least used and least valued.

Question: Could you suggest a method of making lamp cords inconspicuous, especially one attached to lamp on a center table in the living? I have no outlet and must attach the cord to my ceiling light.

Answer: A dark cord will help to answer your purpose, but it will not be entirely inconspicuous. Why not place your table against a wall and have an outlet in the baseboard behind the table? Center tables are not now used in living rooms. If for some reason you must keep the table in the center of your room, place on it a vase of flowers or an ornament, rather than a lamp. And allow your lighting to come from floor lamps.

BOARD MEMBER QUITS

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS) Dr. A. L. Lewin today still thought 38 years of service should count for something.

That was the reason he gave for submitting his resignation to the Pittsburgh school board yesterday after the board by-passed him in selection of a new president. The physician had served 38 years with the school board.

The board chose Attorney J. Roy Dickie, a two-year member, as president to fill the vacancy caused by the death of H. B. Kirkpatrick two weeks ago.

DRIED FRUIT FOR WHIPS

Pureed cooked prunes or dried apricots are often called for in making whips or other light desserts. One cup of uncooked dried fruit yields about one cup of puree. The secret is to cook the dried fruit a little longer than usual and then force it through a colander or sieve.

JOHN W. COX TO HAVE ANNIVERSARY

John W. Cox will be honored at his home on the New Castle road, south of New Wilmington, Monday evening when his family will hold "open house" in observance of his 80th birthday.

Mr. Cox was born and has lived all his life on the farm on which he still resides.

New Bedford Lions To Fete Children

First Annual Christmas Party Will Be Presented At Grange Hall Thursday Evening

New Bedford Lions Club will treat all the boys and girls attending the New Bedford grade school and the pre-school children at the club's first annual Christmas party to be held in the New Bedford Grange Hall on Thursday, December 23 at 6:30 p.m.

Santa Claus will be on hand to attend the party and distribute gifts and goodies to the children of the community. Games, music and children's movies will provide entertainment prior to old St. Nick's arrival.

The party is free to all youngsters of the community and environs. Parents may accompany the children if they wish. Members of the Lions Club will conduct the party so that the parents will know that their children are properly supervised. John Anderson is chairman of the affair.

This evening, following the school entertainment in the Town Hall, the club will sponsor an event which will realize funds for the school projects. A third project which the club is sponsoring for the local school is the donation of 1000 book covers to protect the text-books used by the pupils. On the covers are printed rules of safety-first which school children should rigidly observe. The project was the work of the safety committee headed by Michael Beck.

Red Cross Mission Machine-Gunned

SAN JOSE, Costa Rica, Dec. 22—(INS)—San Jose was in mourning today for a six-man Costa Rican Red Cross mission which was machine-gunned to death by rebel forces near the Nicaraguan border.

The six victims—including a priest—were given a state funeral in San Jose yesterday. Provisional President Jose Figueres and other top government officials attended.

A Costa Rican army communique reported that government troops have captured the El Amo airport, southeast of rebel-held Lacruz.

The communique said that a heavy insurgent counter-attack was repulsed after bitter fighting.

It also was disclosed that 200 supporters of ex-President Rafael Calderon Guardia, who sponsored the invasion from Nicaragua, were arrested at Pureto Limon.

Explains Reminder Card Mistakes In Seal Sale Drive

John C. Syling, chairman of the Lawrence County Tuberculosis Christmas seal sales, today made the following statement concerning the mailing of reminder cards to seal subscribers who had already mailed their financial acknowledgment of receipt of the seals.

Mr. Syling said, "Many payments had been received in our offices before the cards were mailed. However, due to the length of our large mailing list, we did not have all of the payments posted up to date at the time the cards were sent.

"I wish also to take this opportunity to apologize to all of subscribers who have sent in a payment and also received a reminder card. Please disregard the card and I can assure that your payment has been properly received and posted in our records."

East Pittsburgh Workers Cast Ballots

EAST PITTSBURGH, Pa., Dec. 22.—(INS)—A committee of 21 today began counting ballots cast in the annual election of officers of Local 601, CIO United Electrical, Radio and Machine Workers in East Pittsburgh.

Each of 11,500 workers who voted cast two ballots and the 23,000 total was a record for the local.

Bitter campaigning between "Progressive" candidate President Thomas P. Fitzpatrick and "Rank and File" candidate Phil Conahan caused the high vote.

Clearfield County Coroner Dr. R. L. Williams listed death from a heart attack as the cause.

'Air Motor Cycle' Skims Tree-Tops

LONDON, (INS)—Horace T. Pentecost, 39 year-old aero engineer from Seattle, recently demonstrated his one-man "air motorcycle" on an airfield near London.

He says it has been designed, "just to loaf along a few feet above the ground at a snail's pace, to hover, skim the tree-tops, or play tag with the clouds."

The Hoppi-copter, as Horace calls the machine, is an eight foot high tubular skeleton with tripod under carriage. It weighs only 180 pounds and can be pushed easier than a motorcycle.

Pilot Fastens on 'Sandals'

It has a canvas-backed seat and the pilot fastens himself into leather-strapped steel "sandals". The two-cylinder engine is started by pulling a cord, an operation similar to starting a dinghy's outboard motor.

Pentecost explained:

"You can carry out every air maneuver with the single control stick. Twist it, move it up or down, backwards, sideways, or forward. Whatever you do to the stick, the Hoppi-copter will do, too."

The right hand controls the plane while the left works two knobs—the clutch and the throttle. There are no dials, clocks or meters.

The Hoppi-copter lands or takes off in a cleared area only 30 feet square, has a carrying capacity of 350 lbs., and will fly for an hour on two and a half gallons of normal gasoline. Ceiling is 12,000 feet.

Calls It Motor-Cycle of the Air

"I suppose," said Pentecost "you would really call it the motorcycle of the air. Cruising speed for the average man is 40 to 60 miles an hour.

"We don't do much with small engines in the States, so I have fixed up with an English engineering firm to build the 35 h.p. engine—and probably the whole Hoppi-copter—over here.

"It may be a year before we have them in production and then we should be exporting to America!"

Pentecost claims that if the engine stopped in mid-air the automatic free-wheeling clutch would allow the rotors to go around like a falling leaf, and the Hoppi-copter would float down gently.

Severed Hand Leads To Murder Victim

Scotland Yard Pieces Together Dismembered Body One Year After Crime Is Committed

LONDON. — (INS)—A man's severed hand which floated to the surface of a lonely golf course pond has guided police to one of the most involved murders in recent history.

It was the dead hand of Albert William Welch, 45-year-old railroad worker.

A coroner's jury at Hendon, Middlesex, recently identified the victim as Welch and returned a verdict of "murder by persons unknown."

The inquest verdict came exactly a year after Welch was reported missing from his home near the golf course. The dismembered remains of his body were found in the pond after the discovery of the hand.

Murdered By Blow On Head

The skull showed he had been murdered by a blow on the head and the other remains showed signs of an attempt at burning.

Fair-haired Mrs. Phyllis Francis Welch, in light green coat, pink dress and black hat, wept when she heard the verdict.

She told the coroner that she last saw her husband on November 16, 1947. Sht added: "I thought he had gone away to cause me anxiety—to punish me."

Mrs. Welch said that she and her husband had previously talked about divorce proceedings.

Scotland Yard and police laboratory officials gave a macabre description of how they pieced the dismembered body together. They built the remains into a body that they said resembled that of Welch.

X-Rays Of Feet

Then came X-ray photographs of the feet which were found in the pond. New type casts were made from the inside of boots worn by Welch.

Police evidence revealed that the laboratory experts had been greatly aided by the new moulage plaster cast used in America by all homicide squads.

Shoes of the missing Welch were filled with a mixture of hot gelatine, glycerine, and plaster. The casts hardened into minutely perfect impressions of the wearer's feet.

The experts then compared the tiny indentations and markings on the casts of the shoes with the sole impressions of the feet found in the pond.

X-ray photographs of the actual feet were then superimposed over the casts of the shoes. Identical irregularities between the two casts were definitely established.

COLDS ARE COLDS

NEW YORK—The National Better Business Bureau has warned, with the advent of winter, that no known medical product can be advertised truthfully as a preventative or cure for the common cold. It said a product should be advertised only as relief for some specific symptom.

Coal Strike Cost France 100 Million

PARIS, Dec. 22.—David Bruce, chief of the Economic Co-operation Administration's special mission to France, said tonight the recent Communist-led coal strike had cost France about $100,000,000.

In a broadcast to the United States, Bruce said the strike caused a loss of more than 5,000,000 tons of coal. Despite the coal strike, Bruce said, France has made more solid progress this year than at any time since 1939. He said her industrial production this year would be greater than in 1938.

LAUNDRY STRIKE CONTINUES

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS)—It was up to the Allegheny County Laundry Owner's Exchange today as to whether a new offer would be made to settle the 10-day-old strike of 250 AFL Drivers.

According to union officials the men still want a five-day week, $6 pay boost and seven per cent increase in commission.

Thomas L. Fagan, president of Local 249, AFL General Teamsters, said the men voted, 2-1, last night to continue the strike. The vote was on a company offer of a five-day week and a $3 increase in salary.

Family Pleads For Clemency For Doomed Man

Appeals To Ohio Board Of Pardon At Columbus For Robert Daniels

COLUMBUS, O., Dec. 22.—(INS)—Robert Muri Daniels, convicted partner-in-murder of John West, has not cried yet in his death cell at Ohio penitentiary. But his family did yesterday as they pleaded for clemency.

Daniels is to die in the electric chair Jan. 3 for his part in six killings, including the manager of Mansfield reformatory, his wife and daughter. West was killed at a police roadblock the day Daniels was captured.

The pair earned the title of "the mad-dog killers" when they cut one of the bloodiest paths in mid-west history last summer.

Robert and Gertie Daniels, the condemned man's parents, and Mrs. Lillian Sims, his older sister, and her daughter, Ruth Thompson, decried the sentenced meted out to Daniels before the Ohio board of pardon and parole at Columbus.

Chairman Raymond King and Commissioner Lawrence Hackenberg said the commission would take the pleas under advisement and report to the governor "in sufficient time", possibly before Christmas.

ONE IN MILLION HAND

GROVE CITY, Pa., Dec. 22.—(INS)—Four Grove City College students today reported a one-in-a-million bridge hand.

While playing in their dormitory Jim Jordan and Bill Rucksruhl were dealt all red cards. Partners Kenny Jones and Dave Pryde received all black.

The bid was seven spades and the play a throwdown.

Being Returned To Pennsylvania To Face Charges

HARTFORD, Conn., Dec. 22.—(INS)—Louis Zawadski, alias Louis Spencer, is on his way back to Pennsylvania today to face questioning in a $25,000 Altoona holdup and a murder in Harrisburg.

Zawadski waived extradition yesterday "on condition he be taken directly to Pennsylvania" although he was warned that the court could not guarantee to grant such a request.

Zawadski, who was captured in Hartford on Dec. 7, is wanted in Pennsylvania in connection with the $25,000 holdup of Daniel Lamont, a racehorse owner, on Nov. 10 and the subsequent killing of John Longden, whose body was found near Harrisburg on the following day.

PIANO PUPILS HAVE CHRISTMAS RECITAL

Piano pupils of Miss Elizabeth Butz met December 18, at her home, 811 Carlisle street, for a recital and Christmas party.

Those taking part, follow: Mrs. C. Piovesan, Miss Rosemary Semmes, John Vance, Richard Piovesan, Marilyn Canon, Marian Booher, Jay Flaherty, Ann Weinschenk, Mrs. R. L. Tanner, Susan Chapman, Joan Alborn, David and Billy Hares, Nancy Hanna, Gladys Spencer, Betty Ann and Mary Lou Forney, Rena Goldman and Russell Uram.

Susan Chapman and Ann Weinschenk, accompanied by Joan Alborn at the piano, sang four Christmas carols. Marilyn Canon gave a reading 'The Night Before Christmas" to musical accompaniment.

After refreshments were served, an informal period of fun was enjoyed. The next meeting will be in February.

Nurses At Jameson Hospital Sing Carols

Patients Entertained By Chorus Of Student Nurses During Evening

Student nurses at the Jameson Memorial hospital, who recently organized a chorus, which is directed by David W. Rees, well known local chorister, sang Christmas carols for the patients at the hospital Monday evening.

The chorus, composed of 40 voices, visited each floor and sang a group of numbers to the delight of the patients who are housed there. Although organized but a short time, they are establishing an enviable reputation for the choral work.

LANDS ON SNAKE

May Seek To Stem Continued Growth Of Huge Industries

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Efforts to stem the continued growth of industrial giants shaped up today as one possible outcome of the congressional hearings on corporation profits.

Sen. Flanders (R) Vt., chairman of the special subcommittee to study corporation profit trends, said he was "much disturbed" by testimony about expansion of big, well-managed companies. He declared:

"No matter how well they serve our economy, they just can't keep on growing indefinitely and make us an aggregation of industrial empires.

"I don't have the answer, but it's something that industrial leaders had better be thinking about quite seriously."

Flanders' concern about expanding industrial empires made it probable that his subcommittee's report will put considerable emphasis on the trend.

The hearings, which closed last night, were aimed at providing factual data for the use of tax-writing and legislative committee.

Wages Successful Campaign On Rats

Miss Angelina Martini, of 204 South First street, launched a one-woman rat extermination campaign on Thanksgiving day and has had a great deal of success since that time.

Using only five traps of the type used for muskrat, she has killed 29 of the large variety and four smaller ones since the drive started.

Miss Martini uses table scraps as bait and plans to continue the campaign as long as the death rate of rats continues to increase.

Austrian Girl Is Now In Protective Custody Of U.S.

VIENNA, Dec. 22.—(INS)—U. S. army agents quietly took Dana Superina, the Austrian girl who saw U. S. Marshal plan official Irving Rose killed, into "protective custody" today.

The girl was seized as she crossed into the American sector of Vienna, soon after her release from a Russian-sector hospital.

The army's criminal investigation division explained it wants to find out why the girl told Austrian police that Russian soldiers murdered Ross, and later, in Soviet custody, changed her story.

They said that under preliminary questioning, Miss Superina insisted that her later version of the slaying—that she could not identify the men who killed Ross—was correct.

American States Council To Decide Conference Need

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Acting Secretary of State Lovett said today that the council of the organization of American states must decide whether to call a hemisphere conference on Latin-American revolutions.

Lovett pointed out that the council set up a commission to investigate the current Costa Rica-Nicaragua dispute. He said it could deal similarly with problems resulting from the outbreak of revolutions.

The acting secretary told his news conference there is no ground for belief that any central force is directing military coups which have seized power in a number of countries.

He added that he knew of no plan whereby economic sanctions would be exercised against such countries. Reports that sanctions were planned had emanated from Santiago, Chile.

Meanwhile, the recent seizures of power caused the United States to reconsider its plans for arming western hemisphere forces and other joint defense projects.

Tojo Only Dictator Who Stood Trial

TOKYO, Dec. 23.—(Thursday)—(INS)—Hideki Tojo was the only Axis dictator to stand trial for his war crimes.

Tojo was the only one to go on trial before a tribunal of victorious nations.

New Move Launched For Intervention In War Crimes Verdicts

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Almost simultaneously with announcement in Tokyo that seven Japanese warlords had been hanged, a new move was launched today for supreme court intervention in the war crimes verdicts.

John G. Brannon, Kansas City attorney, filed a petition for rehearing in six cases, including that of Gen. Kenji Doihara.

Doihara died on the gallows at Sugamo prison with ex-Premier Tojo and five other Japanese leaders ordered to pay the supreme penalty.

Brannon's petition, however, also asked the supreme court to act in behalf of five Japanese sentenced to long prison terms.

SEEK 'LOVE FUGITIVE' IN GERMANY

U. S. MILITARY POLICE are seeking Edward Lada, ex-paratrooper from Newark, N. J., shown with Ursula Schmidt, two sides of a triangle which has kept officials of occupied Germany busy recently. Lada, a civilian clerk, crashed the "Iron Curtain" into the Soviet zone to bring out his "wife," the mother of his baby. It then developed he was not married and also was fond of Miss Schmidt. He escaped while being held in a U. S. stockade on a charge of illegal entry. (International)

Says Mrs. Tojo 'Luckiest Widow'

TOKYO, Dec. 23—(Thursday)—(INS)—A Japanese ex-soldier believes hat Mrs. Katsuko Tojo, wife of Japan's Pearl Harbor premier, should count herself among the "luckiest war widows" now that her husband is executed.

Tojo leads the list of seven major Japanese war criminals who were hanged today.

Toki Shimizu, in an open letter to Mrs. Tojo, said:

"Compare yourself to the kin of millions of those who died in far away lands without being able to leave a message to their families. Your husband has been allowed to say all he had to say and is dying in the country of his birth."

Shimizu also criticized Mrs. Tojo for having asked Gen. MacArthur for the body of her husband after his execution.

"Is there anyone who asked your husband, who was directly responsible for their death, for the ashes of countless husbands and sons who never returned from the battlefields?"

EXTRADITION IS WAIVED IN CASE

Gene Parrett, arrested in Laurel place about a week ago, has waived extradition on a charge of embezzlement before Alderman James C. Brice, first ward.

Albuquerque authorities charged Parrett in a warrant sent here by New Mexico state police with embezzlement.

The embezzlement consisted of Parrett failing to return a car he allegedly borrowed from H. L. Rascoe of that place.

Chief of Police Robert D. Hanna charged Parrett with being a fugitive from justice in connection with the charge.

Today the car was returned to Rascoe, who came here from New Mexico, and officers from that state will return Parrett to face the charge some time in the near future.

He also composed a calendar giving the time of the rising and setting of the fixed stars.

HEALTH NEWS

STOMACH AILMENTS, WEAK KIDNEYS, RHEUMATIC PAINS, ARTHRITIS, NEURITIS

and such complaints as Headaches, Nervousness, Acids, Toxins, Bloating, Lack of Vitality, Energy, Poor Appetite Underweight, Dizzy Spells.

SIXTY years ago, Dr. Horne, a German scientist, discovered the source of GEO-MINERAL. In a remote spot in Mississippi, he found that in several small areas, about fifteen feet below the ground surface, was a layer of mineral bearing clay. He also learned that for years, first the Indians and then the people living in this section had been using minerals extracted from this clay for many medicinal purposes. He heard many stories from people who had been relieved of various ailments by drinking a solution of minerals extracted from this clay. The scientist opened a mine there, and ever since, the fame of this natural mineral medicine has spread throughout the wide continent.

Drugless Health!

REGARDLESS of how long you have been sick, and how many medicines you tried before, you can now hope for relief if you try GEO-MINERAL. Your trouble may be mineral-iron deficiency. Lack of minerals makes your blood weak, your resistance low — run down. Simple anemia, headaches, nervousness, gas, toxins, indigestion, and other symptoms may be present. Arthritis and rheumatic pains also may develop. GEO-MINERAL helps to enrich your blood, and make you strong, full of pep, life and energy.

HIPOCRATES was the father of medicine. Ever since his time, minerals and other natural medicines were a reliable remedy for most of our common ailments. Doctors today use minerals as basic material in many of their prescriptions. GEO-MINERAL contains minerals found in the world's best springs. Watch the results a day or two after using it. The housecleaning it will do in your body, the poisons it will bring out. When you see this, do not get alarmed—thank Nature who created GEO-MINERAL as a sign that the medicine is working on you, and realize its priceless value.

Wonder Minerals

RHEUMATISM, arthritis are dreadful diseases. Acid condition in the blood is often their cause. What could be the remedy? For thousands of years, minerals have been used to relieve the pain and suffering of these ills. People, on the advice of doctors, go to mineral springs to find cure, or relief. The late President Roosevelt used to go to Warm Springs in Georgia. He was helped or would not have gone there regularly twice a year.

YEAR after year, people rush to mineral springs and spas, to drink and bathe in their miraculous water. We have all heard of the wondrous springs of Lourdes, France, and famous Thronion in ancient Greece where, according to legend Hercules, the god of eternal youth and strength, drank its waters and bathed to be forever young.

Rich Red Blood

MEDICAL records show 68% of men and women over 35 suffer from nutritional iron anemia. When you feel nervous, dull, lazy, have dizzy spells, no ambition to work or play, a poor appetite, feel blue, when your eyes lack that bright spark, and your mind brilliance, when headaches get the best of you, and you feel old before your time, and when life seems not worth living — it may be simply lack of minerals in your blood. Geo-Mineral then is what you need.

GEO-MINERAL is not a physic, and does not interfere with the foods in your stomach. It is a mineral-iron supplement and adds rich red blood, helps to build you up and assists your system to throw away poisons. When the poisons are out of your system, you begin to feel a new life, as Nature starts to complete the recovery.

100% Guaranteed!

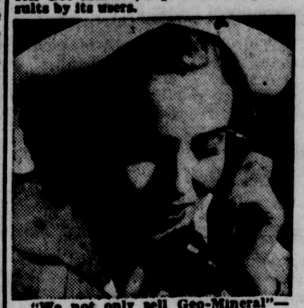
WE urge everyone to try GEO-MINERAL. Do not hesitate one moment. Go to your drug store now. Get one bottle. Use it one week. If you are not satisfied, your money will be refunded in full.

TRY it today—it may do wonders for you, and be the best investment for your health. Make you feel, eat, sleep, work and enjoy life better.

SHOW Geo-Mineral to your doctor and let him tell you, after he reads the formula on the label, about its merit. GEO-MINERAL contains NO alcohol, NO preservatives, NO oil. NO harmful drugs, NO dope—is NOT habit forming. Contains ONLY Natural mineral ingredients highly recommended by the medical profession.

Read What They Say!

Pharmacists, like doctors, know medicine best. Thousands of druggists of high reputation, who now sell Geo-Mineral, report amazing results by its users.



"We not only sell Geo-Mineral"—says G. A. Littlefield, Manager of Smith's Drug Store, Gastonia, N. C.—"but as pharmacists, we know good medicine, and we believe there is none better than Geo-Mineral as a supplement for mineral deficiency. Doctors, hospitals, sanatoriums know the value of natural minerals. We are not surprised at the many users who came back to buy more and told us stories of amazing benefit. We recommend it to our friends, relatives, and beloved ones, and to every one wishing for better health."

"We wish to state that after selling Geo-Mineral for eight months, this product has broken all sales records in the medicine line in our drug store"—reports Jack Wright, owner of Economy Drug Co., Anderson, S. C. "Users report almost miraculous results, helping sufferers with rheumatism, arthritis, weak kidneys, and various stomach ailments. We believe that there exist very few items on the druggists' shelf with the merit of this natural mineral medicine. Of thousands of bottles sold on guarantee basis, there have been very few refunds made."

"We have sold Geo-Mineral for the last six months and it has been one of the best selling drug items we have ever handled"—say Porter Bros., pharmacists of Concord, N. C. "Users report amazing results in many instances, and we personally believe Geo-Mineral is a good medicine for purposes as indicated, and recommend it to sufferers who have tried other medicines with little if any results. They may discover that Geo-Mineral is what they have probably been needing and looking for — we unhesitatingly recommend it."

Budget May Be Near 44 Billions

Huge Budget Is Contemplated For U. S. Operations In Next Fiscal Year

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Official sources said today that President Truman probably will hold his expenditure budget for the next fiscal year down to 44 billion dollars.

The budget has not been completed, since decisions still are to be made on some important items. But the trend is said to point to a top of 44 billion, and possibly a little less.

This is a billion dollars below the figure generally forecast. The president is reported to be determined to submit to the new congress a "tight" budget, considering requirements for defense and foreign aid.

Even with this policy prevailing, there is said to be a strong likelihood that the budget will show a deficit for the next fiscal year, beginning July 1. The budget will be submitted to the new Democratic congress around Jan. 7.

Estimated By Treasury

Government revenue for budget purposes is estimated by the treasury, which usually is conservative. Despite record income levels, indications are that the treasury may be cautious on revenue estimates because of speculation on a possible business slack.

Administration leaders predict that the president will ask congress to enact an excess profits tax on corporation to give the government more revenue and combat inflation. Owing to a lag in corporation tax payments, however, the full effect of this tax would not be felt in the next fiscal year.

Budget As Proposed

The spending budget for the year is said to shape up something like this:

Defense, including perhaps an initial sum to start new "lend-lease" military aid to western Europe, 14 billion; foreign aid and occupation costs, seven billion; interest and tax refunds, 7.5 billions; veterans' benefits, six billion, social security, two billion and other costs, seven to 7.5 billions.

The president is reported to be holding firm to the 15 billion dollar "ceiling" which he placed several months ago on defense appropriations for the next fiscal year, despite pressure from the air force and other services.

But since expenditures lag behind appropriations, total cash outlays for defense in the year are expected to be substantially less than the appropriation ceiling.

Forecasts are that the budget will include an estimate to start military aid to western Europe under the alliance on which interested governments are now at work. Informed sources explain, however, that the total for this purpose in the first year would be comparatively small.

FAMILIES CAN BOOST HOME CHRISTMAS SPIRIT

Homemakers may inject Christmas spirit into their homes with very little effort. All the family will get fun out of gathering greens and berries. Be sure to avoid those on the conservation list. When cutting or picking greens, try not to mar the beauty of the tree or bush.

Home decorations for around a fireplace, the mantel, and the table are fun to do. Candles, Christmas balls, greens, and fruit all work into the decorating. Try painting some empty, small, tin cans, green. Set a red candle into each. Add a round wood base and a strip from another can for a handle to each to make a set of candle holders.

Here is a novel way to make a small Christmas tree. Roll a piece of fine chicken wire into a cone shape. Fill the wire with sprigs of green and decorate with small balls or other objects for a table or mantel.

Keep all decorations simple and take every precaution in using candles and electric, tree lights. Fire resistant Christmas decorations are available.

Carry Christmas into the kitchen in colorful and tasty holiday foods. Christmas will delight in having a part in preparing some of the Christmas surprises. There is fun for all the family and for friends in gathering around the piano and radio to listen to Christmas music, and to read and tell Christmas stories.

THREE DIE IN FIRE

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Three small children were burned to death Tuesday when an oil stove overturned in their Brooklyn home while their mother was out to a store.

A two-alarm fire, which followed, caused considerable damage to the three-story frame dwelling.

The children of Mrs. Mariella Pagan were listed by police as Paul, 3; Mike, 2; and Susan, 19 months.

Among state statutes in the United States, a total of 28 different grounds for divorce are recognized.

PARENTS WARNED

CHICAGO—Traffic experts are stressing psychology in an effort to save some of the estimated 4000 lives lost annually in this country through automobile accidents involving teen-age drivers. Ideas of speed and safety, they hold, are developed before youngsters, actually begin to drive.

'Operation Christmas' Is Tremendous Task For Post Office Force

One might call it "Operation Christmas" for it is probably the biggest job, which is being accomplished this year in New Castle. By that, we mean the task of seeing that everyone gets his Christmas mail, and on time.

A visit to the second floor of the Federal Post Office here, where the carriers and clerks sort out the mail, during the height of the Christmas rush yesterday afternoon, showed everyone busier than a beaver.

Great baskets of cards stood at the feet of the carriers and clerks as they cased the mail for the local folks. As fast as they could handle it, they were sorting this out and placing it in the compartments in the cases. Believe it or not, everyone who gets mail has a little case up there, which is his very own. Maybe you share it with a neighbor or two, but your own little compartment is there.

Worked By Routes

Previously, the mail had been worked over by the clerks and had been placed in similar compartments in the cases for the particular route to which it is assigned. There are 39 regular carrier routes, in addition to the rural routes.

Through long experience, these men can tell at a glance into which compartment the mail goes, and it disappears into it in a twinkling of an eye. In addition, there are nine rural routes, and somewhere in the post office, this must be separated from the city mail. In addition to the carrier compartments, there are several large individual customers, who receive a lot of mail daily, such as the hospitals, etc., who have private compartments in this section, of their own.

Downstairs, the outgoing mail is sorted out and gotten ready for distribution. All the local mail is placed in one big long trough, and the mail for outside the city, exclusive of the rural routes served out of the local post office, goes into another. After cancellation, the mail for outside is then picked up by several clerks, and sorted out into three different batches. Mail for the county, outside the local district, goes into one; mail for Ohio, into another; and all other mail into the third classification. This outside mail goes to terminals, which work over the mail. Here's where the first bottle neck in the Christmas rush develops.

An Extra Job

In addition, mail which is picked up by trains operating between Pittsburgh and New Castle, all comes into the local office, and is worked over for distribution to the proper district. Two local clerks were doing nothing but sorting this out, and hurling it, unerringly into sacks, which are placed in racks which hold the mouth of the sack wide open to receive it. Sometimes, it is just one letter or small package. Sometimes, it is a small bundle of letters, but it must all be distributed.

Local parcel post goes upstairs too, and is distributed into several big piles which are immediately picked up by trucks and taken out for distribution. Two big army trucks, which have been secured from the 229th Field Artillery here, are helping to deliver this to your homes during the Christmas rush, in addition to the regular parcel post trucks.

So much for the regular mail.

Here Are The "Nixies"

Over in one corner of the building is a pile which is growing daily. It contains cards and letters which have imperfect addresses. For instance, both East Washington street and Highland avenue, are served by nine different carrier routes. Suppose you just moved to town recently and the clerks have not become familiar with your name. If you live on either one of these streets, or a side street, and there is no number to the address, it is hurled into this pile. These letters and cards are called "nixies."

Some of them will never reach the person for whom they were intended, because they just don't have a decipherable address. If they bear a three-cent stamp, they will get directory service. If just a one and a half cent stamp, most of them will go into one big blaze, for they will be hurled into the furnace after Christmas.

Looking over a bundle of these, the reporter discovered that a great many came from small communities, from folks who are accustomed, no doubt, to just writing the name and the town on their letters, and in the past they have been delivered, because the post office employes in these small places know everyone, and have more time to puzzle out these situations. Some of them just bore the name of the intended recipient, not even a town or city designation. It is a pity, too, for the value represented by the price paid for these cards and the stamps thereon, would amount to a neat figure.

One experienced clerk was working over the first class mail in the "nixie" pile, in an effort to get it to the right carrier route.

The reporter noticed one letter, mailed by a local resident, which had about a half-dozen names on it, without any address whatsoever, and was marked, "Do not open until Christmas."

Folks who send these out have more faith in the postal employes than the average four-year-old child has in Santa Claus. Even a lot of letters which bear three-cent stamps will not reach their destination, because the address is too imperfect. The receipient is just not known.

So folks, before you sit down to criticize Uncle Sam's postal minions, just take a look at yourself in the glass. Maybe you are the fellow who is to blame. We saw them working feverishly yesterday, trying to bring order out of what looked like chaos to us, but it wasn't to them. It was just a little more of the stuff they go through every day, and they were gradually working out from under the load. The postmaster, William R. Hanna has promised that every bit of mail which comes into the office here by noon, Friday, will be delivered for Christmas. And it has been done every Christmas in the past, so we can believe he will do it again this years, despite the huge increase in volume being inexperienced.

Milk Control Board Calls For Seasonal Pricing

State Commission Calls For Drop In Milk Prices On January 1

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS) The State Milk Control Commission today called for a return to the seasonal pricing system by which milk prices would drop one cent a quart effective January 1.

The commission recommended re-establishment of the system for the Philadelphia and Philadelphia suburban milk marketing areas at the opening of a day-long conference on tentative orders today at Harrisburg. The method of fixing milk prices was discontinued by the MCC last spring.

The commission is expected to recommend re-establishment of the system in five other milk marketing areas represented at the conference. They are: Reading-Berks; Lehigh, Harrisburg, Lancaster and York.

If finally approved, prices in the two Philadelphia areas will drop to 21 cents a quart New Year's Day. Prices of bulk milk would drop 40 cents per hundredweight (46 1-2) quarts) to $5.84.

In addition, the seasonal system also would automatically call for a second one-cent per quart and 40 cents per hundredweight decline effective April 1—during the so-called "flush" milk season.

Prices also automatically would increase one cent a quart and 40 cents per hundredweight July 1 and October 1.

The tentative orders carried the unanimous recommendation of the three-member commission. In August, when prices were boosted 1½ cents a quart, the agency split sharply, with Chairman H. N. Cobb recommending a 2½-cent hike.

"It is impossible to guarantee that this pricing pattern will maintain throughout the year," Cobb said. "Should economic situations warrant it hearings will be held to consider changes within the pattern."

"This is not a promise but an indication of what prices may be if the economic situation stands more or less like it is today.

RELIEF ROLLS RISE

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—The number of persons dependent on public assistance in Pennsylvania increased by 1907 during November, the bulk of the increase being 1467 in the number of general assistance cases. Nine persons were added to the blind pension list, 627 to aid to dependent children rolls ,while old age assistance lists showed a decline of 196.

Wild West Tamed By Resentful Swiss

Swiss Mountain Climber Calmly Tames Wild Horse From Texas During Exhibition

GENEVA. — (INS) — The "Wild West" is a little to wild for the Swiss.

If the good people of Zurich and Geneva never see another rodeo like the last one, that will suit them just fine.

All the same, they want it understood that any man who can scale an Alp can stay aboard a ripsnortin' bronc for the required 10 seconds.

Emile Michaud, stout hearted Geneva mountain climber, stepped forward when Sunbrook offered 1,000 Swiss francs to anyone in the audience who could stay on the back of one of his outlaw "sunfishers" for 10 seconds.

Entire House Cheered

The entire house cheered lustily while Michaud rode out the bronc's buckings for the required time. But when the Alpine waddie tried to collect his prize, he got mixed up in a fistfight with a cowboy. What followed would have done justice to any saloon fight in the days of the woolly West.

Fifteen or 20 Swiss gendarmes hastened to Michaud's aid while the entire group of cowboys and cowgirls backed up their compatriot. Outnumbered, the gendarmes called up reinforcements.

The next morning every last member of the rodeo was hauled into court. An investigation showed several members had been accused of leaving unpaid debts in Zurich during a previous performance there. Sunbrook was fined 1,000 Swiss francs and the show was requested, gently but firmly, to leave the country.

CONDUCT STUDY TO DETERMINE 'AVERAGE' CHILD

Child Guidance Center Conducting Experiment On 160 Hand-Picked Children

PITTSBURGH.—(INS)—What is the "average" child like?

The answer may be forthcoming when the Pittsburgh Child Guidance Center finished its six-year study of 160 hand-picked Pittsburgh school children.

The kids, all six years and eight months old—one for each 1,000 children enrolled in Pittsburgh schools—were chosen for their ability to get along with their classmates.

Begun Three Years Ago

The study—begun three years ago—is under the direction of Dr. Nettie W. Ledwith, psychologist for the center and an instructor at the University of Pittsburgh. Dr. Ledwith chose children who had finished at least one semester in school and therefore had an opportunity to adjust themselves.

The study includes a yearly examination of the children, giving them a half-dozen popular tests, including the Rorschach "Ink Blot" test used to diagnose the personalities of "problem children."

When the study is completed, the center hopes to have standards by which it can determine the personality of the children its purpose is to help.

No Tests For Normal Children

Officials of the center say that though there are several tests to determine whether both adults and children are emotionally disturbed, no real standard for the normal child exists.

An equal number of boys and girls were selected. They were chosen from 30 different schools and were picked to provide an accurate sample of social and economic levels. This gives the researchers an actual cross-section with which to work. A complete record will be kept of the children until they are 13 years old.

When the six-year study is complete, the center hopes to have the answer to what the "regular" child thinks when he or she looks at a blot of ink.

This may not mean much to the layman but it provides the answer to personality problems for trained psychologists.

Proper Parking Easy On Fenders

PHILADELPHIA—(INS)—What's the reason for most of the dented fenders you see around town?

"1. Stop even with or a little ahead of the car in front of the parking space, at a distance of 12 to 18 inches from the parked vehicle to allow for the maneuver to follow.

"2. Cut wheel sharply to the right (many drivers make the mistake at this point of cutting to the left) and back toward the curb.

"3. As the rear wheels near the curb, cut the front sharply to the left so as to swing the front of the car toward the curb. This should be done while the car is backing slowly.

"You now will find that the car is within the alloted space, close to the curb. All that remains for the driver to do is to straighten the wheels and perhaps 'jockey' slightly to allow proper space between vehicles parked to the front and rear."

Simple, isn't it?

SNOW AND ANIMALS ADD REALISM TO XMAS SCENE

A HEAVY SNOWFALL PROVIDES a final note of realism to a Nativity tableau staged at St. George's Protestant Episcopal Church, New York, with live animals playing important roles in the outdoor Christmas pageant. In an effort to make the picture as authentic as possible in the center of a great metropolis, the Rev. Edward O. Miller provided two pedigreed Dorset sheep, a donkey and a baby bull calf. The result is pictured above where children are shown kneeling beside a calf as a part of the Xmas pantomime. (International)

May Soon Be Saying Thaw Me Out A Glass Of Last Summer's Milk

By RICHARD M. PALMER
(I. N. S. Staff Correspondent)

RALEIGH, N. C., Dec. 22—Long before Junior is a man—if the scientists are successful—he'll be saying: "I'm hungry, Ma, thaw me out a glass of last summer's milk."

Dairy scientists at the North Carolina Agricultural Experiment Station in Raleigh are concentrating to make Junior's request a practical one.

Freezing Milk

They really are concentrating—milk—and freezing it, as a means of conserving the food during heavy milking months against the time of year when cows produce in smaller quantity.

Altnough not new, the idea of freezing milk to preserve it has thus far proved impractical for commercial purposes.

But Dr. W. M. Roberts, associate professor of dairy manufacturing at North Carolina State College, reports today that he and his team of researchers are making headway with a process developed in the experiment station's laboratory.

They take milk and condense it to one third its original volume, homogenize it (to distribute the tiny globules of cream throughout the milk) and then freeze it solid in ten below zero cold.

In a commercial version of the process, the solid milk would then be packaged, like frozen broccoli, and stored in quick freezer lockers.

Milk that came from the cow in May could thus quench Junior's thirst in bitter cold December when Bossy is stingy with the liquid food.

All mother would have to do is take out a bar of milk, add enough hot water at 180 degrees to replace the moisture lost in the evaporation process, and let it stand until thawed.

Dr. Roberts said the resulting beverage is pleasant to the taste, and even better if sugar and chocolate flavoring have been added before the milk is frozen.

But please don't leave a note in the bottle tomorrow morning ordering Junior's vitamins by the carton.

Dr. Roberts is not yet ready to spring his discovery on a waiting world. He explains:

"While we feel we have sufficient technical information to put out a commercially acceptable frozen, concentrated milk, there are still many phases of the problem which need further study."

Try And Stop Me

By BENNETT CERF

John Guldahl, just back from Tokyo, tells of a Brooklyn corporal in the American Army of Occupation who learned he was going to be shipped back to America, and cried in panic, "I've got to kill me a Jap before I go home, or I'll never be able to look my Flatbush pals in the face again." "Pipe down on that nonsense," advised his buddy, "the war's over. You'll find yourself in the guard house if you don't look out."

The corporal was not to be dissuaded. He brandished a slightly rusted bayonet and charged out of the barracks. Shortly thereafter his buddy heard a great commotion down the street. He found a Jap, quite dead, in the roadway, and the corporal, seriously wounded, groaning nearby.

"Now you've done it," mourned the buddy. "Tell me what happened before the M. P.'s find you."

"I saw this Jap," explained the corporal weakly, "and I says to myself, 'There's your man.' So I goes up to him and cries, 'Tojo is a low-down rat.' He sanwers, 'Your commanding general is ten times worse.' Then, just as we were shaking hands, a jeep musta hit us."

South Side Church To Present Program

First Congregational Singers Will Make Appearance At Almira Home This Evening

This evening, at 7 p. m., the singers of the First Congregational church will entertain the ladies of the Almira Home on the East Side by singing carols and spreading good cheer. The singers will be directed by Griff Thomas with Mrs. John M. Evans as accompanist. Henry T. Jones will serve as Santa Claus for the occasion, showering small gifts upon the ladies.

At the same hour, the children of the Sunday school will enjoy their annual Christmas party at the parlors of the church. The teachers of the primary and intermediate departments will be in charge of the arrangements. Christmas pictures will be shown by Griff Thomas preceding the other festivities of the evening. Superintendent of the school is Jack Matthews.

At 9 o'clock, the young people will rehearse their candle light service, "The Light of Men" which will be presented Sunday evening, December 26 at 7:30 o'clock. The presentation is directed by Miss Frances Cope.

State Highway Department Must Have Larger Fund

HARRISBURG, Dec. 22.—(INS)—The future of Pennsylvania's highway development program lies with commonwealth citizens who must decide whether to provide additional funds for highway improvement or watch the state's road network deteriorate.

That's the belief of State Highways Secretary Ray F. Smock.

In a radio address at Harrisburg last night, Smock deliberately skirted any reference to a two-cent a gallon increase in gasoline taxes as previously proposed by Gov. James H. Duff to finance highway development.

But, he pointed out that the Highway Department through lack of sufficient funds is confronted with the decision to halt development of roads or to press forward with additional sources of revenue.

"In the past the decision invariably has been to press forward," he said. "When the full facts of the current situation are thoroughly evaluated Pennsylvanians undoubtedly will again make a wise and sound decision.

"The Highway Department can maintain and build roads to an extent that is limited by funds available. Present funds will not permit operations at current levels."

Play Safe This Christmas, Fire Chief Warns All

Avoid Tragedy By Using Common Sense In Christmas Decorations

Maintenance of the fine safety record, which this city has enjoyed in recent years, is urged by Fire Chief Herman F. Steinbrink, in his annual safety message to the residents of New Castle.

There has not been a tragic fire at the Christmas season here for many years, and this fine record can be maintained if folks will use common sense in their Christmas decorations.

If you plan on having a tree, see that it is solidly placed so it will not topple over, and best of all place it in a pan of water. Some containers have a trough at the bottom for this purpose. This increases resistance to fire. Have a fire extinguisher handy.

Look over your tree lights carefully before putting them on the tree, see that there are no frayed spots in the wiring or loose connections. See that the lights do not touch against inflammable materials.

Above all, turn out your lights before going to bed.

Club operators are warned to have exits clear at all times, and to be sparing in the use of decorations which might catch fire and cause a holocaust like that in Boston several years ago at the holiday season.

If good common sense is used, there will be no need for worry.

WHITING PROMOTED

YOUNGSTOWN, Dec. 22. — James A. Whiting of Youngstown has been appointed assistant superintendent of Hubbard blast furnace of the Youngstown Sheet & Tube Company. He succeeds James Hays who died some time ago.

Whiting, a native of New Bedford, Pa., joined the company as a laborer in the Campbell blast furnace department in 1937.

When the United States entered World War I, the Aviation Service, as it was then called, had 55 planes and 65 officers, only 39 of whom were flyers.

Plans For Socialized Medicine Under Fire

State Medical Society President Challenges Statements Of Federal Security Administrator

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Plans for socialized medicine in America are under fire by the Pennsylvania Medical society.

Dr. Gilson C. Engel of Philadelphia and society president charged Federal Security Administrator Oscar R. Ewing with making "many misleading statements" regarding the status of America's health, "not only to the president but to the people of America".

Ewing's proposal called for a 10-year socialized medicine program as the "best means of providing adequate care for 68,000,000 persons otherwise unable to afford it".

Engel challenged Ewing's statement that there are 325,000 preventable deaths each year in America.

"It is hard to believe that one who professes to be interested in the nation's health should make so many misleading statements not only to the president but to the people of America," Engel said.

Engel said that "America today enjoys the best health of any nation in the world" and that plans for socialized medicine "will be fought by millions of clear-thinking Americans".

Detroit Police Report Murder Case Cleared Up

Police Say Man Confesses Slaying Father-In-Law And Faking Robbery

DETROIT, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Police said today a Detroit man has confessed killing his 71-year-old father-in-law, then ransacking the house to make it appear the slaying was done by a burglar.

The father-in-law, Nichol F. Longstaff, an invalid, was found beaten to death Monday night in the home he shared with his daughter and her husband.

The murder shocked Detroit's east side, where another resident was killed by a burglar less than three weeks ago. The area has been terrorized by a series of burglaries, causing widespread demand for better police protection.

The son-in-law, Lorn Lenz, reportedly confessed the slaying when confronted with a pair of bloodstained shoes. He told police he discarded other clothing spattered in a violent battle with his father-in-law but decided the shoes were "too good to throw away".

Judge Rowe sentenced Shank to a month in jail, and put Mrs. Buzzell on probation.

When it was all over Shank went to Mrs. Buzzell and kissed her goodby.

For the kiss, Judge Rowe made it two months.

Possibility Of Peace In China Appears Better

LONDON, Dec. 22—(INS)—Reuters today quoted an unidentified member of the new Chinese cabinet as saying that the government party (Kuomintang) "now accepts the possibility of peace with the communists".

The British news agency, in a report from Nanking, said however that the new government itself will not begin peace negotiations with the reds.

The cabinet member was quoted as saying the initiative for peace talks would have to come from a third party, such as the United States, Russia or Britain.

Reuters quoted the minister to the effect that "so far the desire for peace has not taken an official form, and has been expressed only by individual elements in the Kuomintang".

SUGGESTS REMEDY

UNIONTOWN, Pa., Dec. 22. —(INS)—Fayette County Commissioner John W. Rankin had a very simple solution today for balancing the county budget and clearing up a $100,000 deficit.

Rankin, who is president of the Board of Commissioners, suggested that the board fire half of the county's 200 employes. Rankin said:

"There are so many they get in one another's way."

Some people erroneously believe there is a federal law forbidding the destruction of coins by their owners. But, there is a law that forbids the lightening or multiliation of a coin in such a way that the coin may be later circulated in its damaged condition.

Change In Tactics Endangers Peace Plan In Holy Land

TEL AVIV, Dec. 22.—(INS)—A sudden new change in tactics by the Egyptian government today endangered Palestine armistice negotiations on which the United Nations placed high hopes for hastening peace in the holyland.

Brig. Gen. William E. Riley, U. N. chief of staff in Palestine, told Israeli authorities that the Egyptians have withdrawn their compliance with the security council's decision on armistice negotiations through the medium of a three-power board of conciliation.

Riley asked the Israeli government to state its attitude in view of the Egyptian action.

According to an Israeli spokesman, Acting Mediator Dr. Ralph J. Bunche said he was "highly satisfied" with Israeli's agreement to release by stages the Egyptian garrison trapped at Faluja in the Negev desert.

The Egyptians, however, insist that the forces be permitted to leave in a single group.

U. N. truce headquarters took a pessimistic view of the future in view of the changed situation.

Husband Admits His Wife Better At Tile Laying Than Any Man

OWENSBORO, Ky.—(INS)—Professional husband-and-wife teams are not new but a couple in Owensboro, Ky., has come up with something different in such cooperation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charlie W. Stone lay tile—and she's the better 'man' of the two at the job.

Furthermore, Mrs. Stone—who's been at tile-laying for nine years—is believed to be the only woman working at the trade in the country.

Stone frankly admits that when he married the Swedish girl from Bloomington, Ill., back in 1919 he knew "she'd be a good help".

Better Mixer Than a Man

Stone says his wife is better at applying the tile and cement and mixing mortar than any man he ever saw.

Charlie should know. He taught her and won first prize in residential displays of tile in a national contest in 1939 under sponsorship of the Tile Manufacturers Association.

In spare moments, she relaxes with sewing, knitting and music.

She likes the piano and mandolin most, but has mastered several other instruments also. Mrs. Stone has even taught her husband the tricks of playing a saxophone.

Stone is somewhat awed by the ability of his wife. He claims they now have a working agreement: she works, and he does the talking for both of them. And Mrs. Stone adds: "He's the man who can do it, too."

FOG CAUSES CRASH

FREDERICKSBURG, Pa., Dec. 22.—(INS)—Pea-soup fog hanging over glaring ice on Highway 22 today was blamed for a smash-up involving four huge tractor-trailers near Indiantown Gap.

No one was injured but extensive damage occurred to the trucks, according to state police, when one truck pulled over to the road side for repairs and the three others coming up from the rear piled into it.

Dim Prospects For Christmas Dinner Faced By Britains

Supplies Of Home And Imported Turkeys Will Be Four-Fifths Of Last Year

LONDON — (INS) — Christmas dinner prospects for Britons are not too bright this year.

Supplies of home and imported turkeys and other poultry this Christmas are expected to be about four-fifths of last year's quantities. And last year's supply was meagre, indeed.

Though Eire will send Britain some 600,000 turkeys and home-produced turkeys will be a little more plentiful, some ten million Argentine turkeys will not be on British tables as expected.

Simple reason is that the food ministry refuses to spend the dollars.

Britons will stand a much better chance of getting a goose, duck or chicken than a turkey.

The nation's goose, duck and chicken population is up by ten million and many of these birds will be put on the market.

Hungarian and Polish geese and ducks are to be imported again this year and Food Minister Strachey is trying to get poultry from other countries on the continent.

Three million homes or more will be made happier through the generosity of people in the United States, the Dominions, and the first batch already has been unloaded at the London docks.

In addition, some 3,000 tons of food, including Christmas puddings and cakes, is coming to Britain in bulk from overseas for distribution to poor homes.

Supplies of Christmas nuts are expected to be plentiful but prices will be high. Fruit supplies should also be reasonably good but there is likely to be a reduction in supplies in luxury fruits.

Anyone who can raise $6.50 (government-controlled price) should be able to purchase all the bottles of gin and rum he likes for Christmas. Only Scotch whiskey is scarce. It costs upwards of $20 a bottle on the black market.

Liberal supplies of sherry, port, champagne and a wide selection of white and red varieties from many different countries will be available. Cider, ginger wine and soft drinks will be a good deal easier to buy than they have been for several years.

DO YOU KNOW

Last year 1,445,370 persons in the United States died, which represented a death rate of 10.1 deaths per 1,000 population, the second lowest death rate ever recorded in this country.

MUSICIANS UNION TO GIVE PROGRAM

Under the music appreciation program of the American Federation of Musicians, which is financed by the recording and transcription fund, an orchestra concert will be given on Sunday, December 26, at 2:30 p. m. at the Margaret Henry Home. This program is to be given free, under the auspices of the American Federation of Musicians and Local No. 27 in conjunction with Mrs. Lida J. Green, superintendent.

SELLS TREES AT 50 CENTS

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS)—A Pittsburgh Christmas tree dealer emerged today a real Santa Claus.

Gene Rosenfeld was unloading his stock of four and five dollar Christmas trees at 50 cents each.

He said he was following the example of Elliott Roosevelt in underselling the market, because "the public has been gouged."

Fiddles were not invented until the middle ages, hence the instrument on which Nero played while Rome burned, if he played on that occasion, was not a fiddle.

In peacetime it usually requires a year after a battleship has been launched to place her in commission. However, the Iowa was commissioned in 25 weeks, the New Jersey in 24 weeks and the Wisconsin in only 18 weeks.

Chinese Embassy Reports Many Applications Are Being Made

OTHER NEWS OF NATIONAL AFFAIRS

(Special To Central Press)

WASHINGTON, Dec. 22.—The Chinese embassy reports that applications are pouring in from aspiring Americans who want to take a crack at the Chinese Communists via Maj. Gen. Claire Chennault's famed Flying Tigers.

In fact, some of the applicants apparently are former members or near relatives of Chennault's original group, who are anxious to take up where the first organizatio left off—only against the Communists instead of the Japanese.

Chennault himself has reported that the Chinese government has not asked him to form another ace flying unit similar to the one which won undying fame in World War II.

However, he also has reportedly said that he will be quite willing to undertake such a task again if the request were forthcoming from the Communist-pressed government of Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek.

China Policy

For all practical purposes the United States policy toward China has been decided. That policy is to continue on the present course through this winter until the Chinese military situation has stabilized—whether for better or for worse.

There is conviction in the administration that regardless of the United States long-range policy aims in the Orient, the situation is so fluid as to render any intensification of aid to the Nationalist government of China impracticable of fulfillment.

The State department does not want a further loss of face in the Far East over what inevitably would be propagandized as failure of the United States to accomplish the preservation of China.

Thus, the United States policy is to let China stand or fall without immediate American intervention beyond the presently scheduled aid.

The time to look for a change in policy is when the Communist forces have paused in their southward march to consolidate and attempt to digest the areas they have captured.

Then the United States may step in with intensified aid to help the Nationalist government — or the government that succeeds it.

Refugee Heroes

The Immigration Service is moving full steam ahead to deport 89 Baltic refugees who are lodged on Ellis island, but the betting in Washington is that President Truman will intervene to save them.

These refugees have a particular appeal since they fled the Baltic states of Estonia, Latvia and Lithusania when the Russians marched into those countries and made their way to the United States under the most hazardous circumstances.

They first went to Sweden. There they acquired small boats, 40 to 50 feet long, and in these sailed to the United States. Two such boats reached Boston, two more came in at New York, and others made Philadelphia, Norfolk and Miami. Two boatloads were lost at sea.

Potato Headache

The Irish potato has been more of a headache to government price supports this year than ever before. Aside from the cost of the price support program which now exceeds 100 million dollars certain irregularities have arisen which disturbs officials.

As a result, the government welcomes the drop in the price support level from 90 to 60 per cent for the 1949 crop.

Pay Boost For HST?

If the incoming 81st Congress wants to give President Truman a cost-of-living pay boost—possibly to $100,000 a year—it will have to do so in the few weeks between January 3, when it convenes, and January 20, when he is inaugurated.

This fast action is necessary because of the constitutional ban against Congress from either increasing or cutting a president's pay during a term in office.

Philadelphia Port Strike Is Concluded

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22. — (INS)—Operations at the Port of Philadelphia resumed today as 1600 striking AFL Longshoremen returned to work after a three-day tieup.

The union members ratified an agreement last night to settle proper interpretation of a clause in the Nov. 29 pact affecting pay for less than a full four-hour shift.

The return to work also acted to end an unofficial embargo of the port as railroads had stopped sending cars into the area in order to "prevent an accumulation of vitally needed freight cars."

Holiday Program Scheduled Tonight

Christmas Party At U. P. Church In New Wilmington; Town News Notes

NEW WILMINGTON, Dec. 22.—The traditional Christmas party of the congregation of the U.P. church will be held Wednesday evening in the church parlors.

Six children will give recitations. They are Judy Ann McCandless, Peggy McLaughry, Wallace Brown, Betsy and Marylou Mansell and Sally Haymond. Mrs. W. J. H. McKnight will give the reading, "The Littlest Angel".

There will be carol singing and refreshments will be served.

A program by the Junior department of the Neshannock Presbyterian church will be presented in the church Wednesday evening. A social time and an exchange of gifts will follow the program.

High school students provided the program at Monday night's meeting of the Kiwanis club at the Methodist church. The ensemble under the direction of Mrs. Leila Mack rendered three carols and a Christmas play was presented by the 10th grade room taught by Miss Elizabeth McCalmont.

The local school will dismiss Thursday afternoon for Christmas vacation. Classes will resume Monday, January 3.

Rev. Robert Kelly and Harvey Mercer were in Pittsburgh, Tuesday.

Homestead High Defeats New Castle 51 To 39

Steelers Display Terrific Offense

Charles "Chick" Davies, the veteran coach, has another potential state championship basketball team this year, at Homestead High, the Steelers winning their seventh straight, at Washington High floor last night, upsetting the New Castle undefeated at home record, 51 to 39.

New Castle was in the ball game for three periods and led at the half 25 to 23, but couldn't match in cleverness the Homestead High scoring attack, of 21 field goals.

Reed Scores 22 Points

Young Don Reed with 22 points, was high man in the game, and ran his season total to date to 104 points, for six games, an average of slightly better than 17 points per game. McLane of the Steelers with 14 points led the Daviesmen in scoring.

New Castle will play another "hot" Section 6 team here Thursday night—Duquesne High. The preliminary at 7 o'clock will find the reserves tangling.

Locals Trail First Period

New Castle trailed all the way in the opening period, being behind at 10 to 2 at one time and finally winding up 16 to 9 in arears. Dick Lewis managed to slip through the solid Homestead defense for the first New Castle field goal after better than four minutes of play. Previously Cialella and Reed had made a foul apiece.

New Castle's best effort was put forth in the second period, the locals outscoring the invaders 16 to 7, through the fine work of Reed and Tom Clarke. It was Homestead ahead at 22 to 15 with the session half voer.

Locals Lead At Half

The half ended with New Castle in front 25 to 23 as Reed made a sensational field goal with seconds left on the clock. It was Reed who tied up the game at 23-23 seconds before, by caging a foul.

Reed had 14 of the points in the first half. Lewis had four, Clarke four, Cialella one, and Conti two.

The George Thomas coached machine led through the first four minutes of the third stanza at 28 to 27. Homestead took the lead at 29-28, and Haines, a New Castle sub tied it up again at 29-29. Hood of the visitors gave the Daviesmen the lead at 31 to 29, and thereafter New Castle was never in the lead. The third period ended 35 to 30, with Homestead in front.

Monotonous Fourth Period

It was a rather monotonous fourth and final period, the Homesteaders dropping them in from all angles and with three minutes of the game left were leading 41 to 31. It was 43 to 32 with two minutes left and with one minute to go it was 47 to 37.

New Castle made 17 out of 27 fouls, and Homestead caged 9 out of 21 tries, but Homestead made 21 field goals and New Castle only 11, that was the difference.

Homestead had a very finely balanced ball club, a great passing system and worked the ball well under the hoops, but when they could get near the basket, young Don Zuger stood in the center of the court and flipped in four sensational "set shots". He shot five times, not a bad average.

In the preliminary game the New Castle team salvaged it 41 to 25, over the Homestead Reserves.

Rebels, Civics Win In Y League

Civics rallied for 17 points in their period and held on to eke out a 35 to 33 win over the Shamrocks in a Senior "Y" league thriller last night. Travelers, Hannon and Peterson led the winners scoring attack with 30 points between them. Miller's 11 was high for the losers.

The Chiefs easily defeated First Presbyterian of the "B" church league 33 to 22. Pete Stack and Graham topped the well balanced Chiefs' attack with 15 points between them.

The Rebels toyed with the Wings and won handily 55 to 28. Bill Tanner was high man for the evening as he pocketed 17 points for the winners.

CITY COLLEGE, SAINTS WIN GARDEN BATTLES

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—(INS)—The basketball prestige of the Big Seven was denied today by two defeats inflicted by metropolitan quintets at Madison Square Garden last night.

In the featured game, City College nosed out Oklahoma, 53 to 51, on Norm Mager's rebound tap with only three seconds of play remaining.

The opener was a dull affair in which Iowa State never did get started. Dick McGuire, with 15 points, sparked the St. John's 71-47 victory.

The attendance slump continued, with only 15,231 fans turning out for the twin bill.

Lawrence County Sportsman's Association Renames Steinbrink President

Herman Steinbrink was renamed president of the Lawrence County Sportsman's association, as were several other incumbents, at an election held last night in the Ecclesian hall. A large crowd turned out for the election. During the evening members were addressed by James Brown, affiliated with the Game Commission, and who resides at Oil City.

The officers who will govern the association in 1949, are:

President, Herman Steinbrink.
Vice President, Paul Crable.
Financial Secretary, James Boyd.
Recording Secretary, Eddie Fritz, Jr.

Directors, Thomas Elliott and Jack Diamond.

Trustee, Chuck Robinson, Henry Rodgers and George Bolinger are hold-overs and complete the board.

During the evening the sportsmen presented Frankie Conway, 12 year-old trap-loader, at the Harbor farm, with a hunting mackinaw, hat and shirt.

Mr. Brown's 30 minute talk on deer was very interesting, following which a question aand answer forum was conducted, which also proved interesting. Mr. Brown has been requested to return for another address.

Lowellville Clips Bessemer, 57 To 35

Lowellville continued on its undefeated path at Bessemer last night by lacing the Cementers 57 to 35.

Mangene was high for the Ohio lads with nine field goals and a foul toss. Ray Gennaro was best in the losers' lineup as he contributed 11 markers.

Bessemer bogged down in the second quarter after trailing only 14-11 in the first. When the Cementers could get only one marker in the third period the game was over.

The Cementer J.V. won the prelim 35 to 28 from Lowellville reserves.

ARENA HOCKEY TEAM VICTORS

The New Castle Arena rollerhockey team traveled to Glassport last night and brought back a 3-to-2 victory over the strong Glassportians. Clarence Frampton made two of the New Castle goals, and Janacone made one. It was a brusing tough game all the way, the locals report.

VILLANOVA WINS SIXTH IN ROW

PHILADELPHIA, Dec. 22. —(INS)—Villanova's basketball quintet kept its undefeated mark intact today by taking its 6th game in a row in drubbing William and Mary 70-48 on the Main Line court.

The Southern Conference contenders took the court against the Wildcats with an undefeated string of 8 games, but proved no match for the high-scoring Villanova squad paced by Paul Arizin who rolled up 22 points.

The Wildcats in winning, also kept well above their 64.4 point per game average.

DON BLACK WILL LEAVE HOSPITAL

CLEVELAND, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Don Black will be home for Christmas.

The Cleveland Indians' hurler, confined to Charity Hospital the past three weeks following a brain operation, will be permitted to leave the hospital tomorrow.

The surgery was performed to remove a weak spot in an artery in Black's brain. The weak spot caused the Tribe right-hander to suffer a cerebral hemorrhage while at bat during a September game with the St. Louis Browns.

DUQUESNE HANDS ARIZONA DEFEAT

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Duquesne passed its biggest test of the season thus far last night by downing a fine Arizona quintet, 37-51, at the Gardens in Pittsburgh.

The Dukes had a little too much height and finesse for the team from the southwest. Arizona's Leon Blevins and Junior Crum pumped in 15 points each to tie Ed Dahler, Dukes forward, for scoring honors. It was the third straight victory for Duquesne—all at home.

HERE AND THERE IN SPORTS' LAND

HARRY ROBINSON, writing in Huddle, a Pittsburgh sports publication, commonly called the Inner Sanctum of Sports, terms Coach Phil Bridenbaugh, "The King of New Castle" and Huddle further says he is the magazine's choice for "Scholastic Coach of the Year", and perhaps all time. The story tells how Phil gave up coaching college football at Geneva to coach here in 1922, since when he has piloted elevens which have won six WPIAL championships. Briefly, Huddle says, "Bridie" has had teams which have had seven unbeaten seasons, seven others with a single loss, and seven with only two defeats. It all adds up to 227 wins, 48 losses, and 18 ties for a percentage of .825. Along with football, he displayed a championship touch in coaching basketball team for some 20 years. His 1927 and 1930 quintets won WPIAL titles, and the latter came within two points of taking Newport in the state finals. Some time ago he passed up coaching of the hardwood sport, but found time to serve a term as president of the Western Pennsylvania Coaches association. During his record-breaking career, he kept abreast of the ever-changing offensive and defensive styles of football, but never lost sight of the fundamentals of blocking and tackling. The 1948 season, marred only by a 6-0 loss to Warren, O., indicates the soundness of his football philosophy.

The Bridenbaugh-tutored players who have gone on to college and universities would make an All-American eleven without any strain. The majority have come from New Castle. However, prior to taking over at Ne-Ca-Hi, Phil put in a couple of seasons at Kiski. This was before his reign at Geneva. While there he encouraged the late Jimmy DeHart, one of Pitt's two four-letter athletes, to take up football. Andy Hastings, another famous Pitt sar, was coached by Bridenbaugh. Oher lads who scored later on college fields were Alec Fox, Paul Reider, Ralph Day, Tony Ostrosky, Walt Kominic, Chic Fleming, Walt Raskowski, Mike DeCarbo, Johnny Uram, Bobby Lee, Al Tate, George Bender, the late Phil Sargent, Tommy Harper, Paul Cuba, Phil McPeak and a host of others. It might also be stated that it was a Bridenbaugh-coached team which put the lone blemish on Paul Brown's amazing Massilon, O., high school record of 59 wins in 60 starts. The Red Hurricane smothered the high-scoring Tigers, 7-0, in a game during the 1937 season, which pains Brown, now with the Cleveland Browns, All-American conference champions, to this day. Another accomplishment of Bridenbaugh occurred in 1929, when floodlights were installed at Taggart stadium. Ne-Ca-Hi was the first team in the country to play night football, and second only to Drake University in the over-all field. Bridenbaugh has accomplished much here, has brought athletic honor to the city, is nearly 60 years old and dreams of retiring after some years. However, football, like every other sport, creates a fever everlasting in a brilliant coach, and the talk of retirement date seems far distant, in the opinion of Here & There, because "Bridie", like good wine, appears to improve with age.

Basketball Team Has Close Call

Bus Carrying Eddystone High Floor Team And Cheerleaders Crashes Over Embankment

EDDYSTONE, Pa., Dec. 22.—(INS)—A major tragedy was narrowly averted last night when a chartered bus carrying the Eddystone High school basketball team, managers and cheerleaders to a game plunged over a 15-foot embankment in Springfield township, Delaware county.

None of the 35 persons was seriously injured. They were hurled forward into a tangle of bodies as the bus, skidding on the icy roadway, crashed to a halt nose down, its front wheels in a creek at the bottom of the embankment.

Game Called Off

The bus was en route from Eddystone to Marple township.

The only ones treated for minor injuries were two of the six girl cheerleaders—Lucy Pappa, 16, of Upland Borough, and Evelyn Wright, 16, of Eddystone.

Shenango Defeats Zelienople, 26-25

Shenango High's scrappy Wildcats pulled in a "thriller" win, over the strong Zelienople quintet last night at the Shenango floor, 26 to 25. Trailing for three periods, the Eddie Nahas coached champs, turned on the old "sockeroo" and clubbed the "Zelies" out of the picture.

Shenango did not have any outstanding stars, the boys playing as a unit, dividing the scoring chores among them. In the preliminary, the Shenango Reserves won 28 to 13 over Zelienople's Reserves.

Ellwood Edges Sharpsville Hi

Score Is 32 To 31 In Thriller At Ellwood Tuesday, Stramella Stars

(Special To The News)

ELLWOOD CITY, Dec. 22.—Ellwood City High's scrappy Wolverines, pulled one out of the fire last night at Ellwood High court, edging the strong Sharpsville High quintet, 32 to 31, in a thriller.

Behind the first period, 11 to 6, and at halftime, 22 to 13, the Ellwood team put the "heat on" in the final two stanzas to outscore the Mercer Countians, 19 to 9. Sharpsville made a miserable showing the last session with three points, against the crack Ellwood defense set up by the Ted Wallace coached machine.

Stramella Stars

Stramella led the scoring in the game, with 13 points and was the outstanding star. Parker and Dunder each had 11 points for the "Sharpies". Mantz with nine points was also good for Ellwood.

In the preliminary game the Ellwood City Reserves won it in a close one too, 29-27. It was strictly all Ellwood last night.

GRID STARS ARE 'IN THE ARMY NOW'

Sammy Keyes And Jasper Williams Are Serving At Fort Dix

Two of the stars on Ne-Ca-Hi's immortal 1948 grid team are now in the army, serving at Fort Dix, N. J., it was revealed today by M/Sgt. Charles P. Walsh, of the U. S. Army-U. S. Air Force recruiting station in the post office building.

They are Sammy Keyes, a halfback, and Jasper Williams. They were enrolled last week, and were sent to the big New Jersey camp, where they will make a valuable addition to any grid team formed there, because they were outstanding star here.

Indians And Braves Teams To Beat In '49

By LAWTON CARVER
(International News Service Sports Editor)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The Boston Braves expect to win the National league pennant again next season, and they are banking on Vern Bickford, the right-handed pitcher, to help turn this neat trick.

The Braves know they have a couple of fair hands in Johnny Sain and Warren Spahn, but they also believe that Bickford is just finding himself and will be the third big starter in the 1949 tussle.

Sain won 24 and lost 15 last season while Spahn fell off to 15 wins and 12 defeats, after a 20-win year in 1948, and the latter is expected to come bouncing back.

Could Win 20

Bickford showed a record for last season of 11 and 5, and it would surprise no one with the club if he should win 20 or more games next season.

John Quinn, general manager of the Braves, is among those who foresee a great year for Bickford and a resultant second great year for the ball club.

Quinn said:

"It still goes that pitching wins the pennants, and you don't need to look any farther than our records and those for the Cleveland Indians last season to see the truth of this statement.

"We think Pete Reiser (outfielder obtained from the Dodgers) will help us, too, or, in any case, that he is a good gamble but, as always, we are banking on our pitchers and putting major hopes in Bickford."

Putting it another way, the Braves expect big seasons of Sain and Spahn and hope for a big one for Bickford.

Because of the alignment of pitching strength, most of the baseball observers expect the race to be waged by the Braves, Dodgers and the Cardinals.

New York is given only an outside chance due to the lack of three or four good starters. The Giants have many pitchers, but few dependable winners as they stack up now.

Cleveland Again

The American league race—on this early mid-winter line growing out of the recent baseball meetings—Cleveland will be one-sided favorites to repeat in the American league.

They have the best pitching staff in baseball—again.

They have added Early Wynn, formerly of Washington, to their roster, which includes Bob Feller, Bob Lemon and Gene Bearden.

The Cleveland pitching staff finished last season with an earned run average of 2.23, which is almost incredible. The New York Yankees, runnersup in the earned run department, had an average of 3.75, which indicates just how tough the Indian moundsmen were in going to the world championship.

The Yankees and the Red Sox are given a chance to stop the Indians this time around, but it is a slim chance, and the rest of the clubs already have been established as strictly also rans.

All this can be changed through the completion of any of a number of deals supposedly simmering now, but what the others do, they realize that Cleveland in the American league and Boston in the National are the clubs they must beat.

Stan Musial Greatest Hitter Since Hornsby

By LES CONKLIN
(International News Service Sports Writer)

NEW YORK, Dec. 22.—The batting feats of Stan Musial in the 1948 season have started an argument as to whether the slugger of the St. Louis Cardinals is a greater hitter than Roger Hornsby.

Official averages released over the week-end show that Musial led the National League in seven different batting departments. This is a feat unequalled since Hornsby turned the trick in 1922.

Musial was tops in batting, runs-batted-in, runs scored, total hits, doubles, triples and total bases.

Little Competition

In winning the batting championship for the third time in his six-year career, Stan had little competition for his .375 percentage. Richie Ashburn, rookie outfielder of the Phillies, was second with .333.

Musial knocked in 131 runs, scored 135 runs and made 230 hits. These wallops were good for 429 total bases and included 18 triples and 46 doubles.

Tied Cobbs' Record

The slugging outfielder, by making five hits in one game four times during the season, set a National League record and tied Ty Cobbs' major league mark.

He also tied a National League record by leading the league in base hits for the fourth time. And by leading in triples for the third time, the three-time most valuable player tied another National League record.

Stan also was one of the league's "iron men." He and two members of the Pittsburgh Pirates, Stan Rojek and Ralph Kiner, were the only National Leaguers who played in every game.

Musial was one of six National leaguers who hit 30 or more homers in 1948 this tied a major league record. He almost kept pace with John Mize of the New York Giants and Kiner of Pittsburgh, who for the second consecutive year finished in a dead heat for first in the senior circuit's home run derby. Each hit 40.

Mize has hit 40 or more circuit clouts for three years, which is a new National League record.

Kiner Leads

Kiner, who led the league in homers in 1946, his first year in the big show, set a new major league record for landing in home runs or tying for the leadership in each of his first three seasons in the big leagues.

Ashburn, the great rookie of the Phillies, stole the most bases, 32, despite being sidelined by an injury.

The Braves won the pennant by the simple method of compiling the highest club batting percentage, .275, and allowing the fewest opponents' runs, 584.

Gillman Accepts Cincinnati Post

CINCINNATI, O., Dec. 22. —(INS)—Line Coach Sid Gillman of West Point did more than a military about face today in accepting the head coaching job at the University of Cincinnati.

Yesterday the former Ohio State University star, whose two-platoon system of coaching made Miami University at Oxford able to whip opponents she'd never considered before, was on the record with a rejection.

Eight-Year Contract

Gillman, who will succeed former Chicago Bear Ray Nolting, said he'd stick with Earl Blaik.

The U. S. Athletic Director M. Charles Mileham read a telegram which showed a neat field reverse. The message from the 37-year-old Gillman said:

"I have just been able to obtain my release from the U. S. Military Academy. I am happy to accept the University of Cincinnati head coaching position in accordance with the terms you offered."

Those terms include an eight-year contract at ten thousand dollars per annum.

Recommends That 'Mercy Killer' Be Given Freedom

BOSTON, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Gov. Robert F. Bradford recommended commutation of the life sentence of John F. Noxon, Jr., convicted of the electrocution slaying of his infant mongoloid son.

Gov. Bradford suggested to the State Executive Council that the sentence of the wealthy Pittsfield corporation lawyer be reduced to "six years to life."

This makes Noxon eligible for parole immediately inasmuch as he has served four years and five months.

"Mercy Killer"

The council normally holds over such a recommendation for one week. A release on parole must be sanctioned by the parole board. The board was reported today as standing 2 to 1 for clemency in the Noxon case. The board had met with the pardon committee of the executive council and the two bodies conferred with the chief executive before he made the announcement.

Noxon, 52, a sufferer from infantile paralysis, was charged with causing the death in 1943 of his six months old abnormal son, Lawrence Swift Noxon, by placing him on a silver tray at the Noxon home in Pittsfield so that the baby's diaper formed a contact with a frayed electric cord.

The case received nationwide attention at the time as a "mercy killing."

Bob Chesnes Signs Pirate Contract

PITTSBURGH, Dec. 22.—(INS)—Bob Chesnes, one of the outstanding rookie pitchers in the major league baseball last season, Tuesday signed with the Pittsburgh Pirates for 1949.

General Manager Roy Hamey did not disclose the terms of the contract.

Chesnes, 27, won 14 and lost 6 for Pittsburgh in his first year, turning in an earned run average of 3.57.

He has been working in a Pittsburgh bank this winter. In about a month, he'll go to his home in San Francisco to await the arrival of the Pirates on the coast for spring training.

Britain's Navy Conducting Huge Warfare Drills

Exercises Said To Be Nearest To Real Warfare Than Ever Conducted By Forces

LONDON—(INS)—Britain's sea and air forces will carry out running battle exercises under atomic warfare conditions ranging over 1,000 miles of sea in December.

The British Admiralty said the exercises will be the nearest to real warfare ever practiced on, over and under the sea and will culminate in a great attack on Plymouth naval base.

The attacking forces will be warships of the Home Fleet returning from the West Indies and South Africa. They will be met by other warships with strong naval and Royal Air Force cover.

Consider Tactical Problem

Chiefs of the fighting forces want to establish whether Britain, in any future war, could be defended with small naval forces strongly covered from the air.

There will be dummy action by destroyer, submarine and coastal force flotillas. Every attempt will be made to make these running battles as realistic as possible.

Blank ammunition and torpedoes fitted with "practice heads" will be fired, and there will be flashes to represent atomic bomb explosions.

A corps of submarines will take part. Most of them will be equipped with the "Snort", the new and improved breathing device, which enables the vessels to remain submerged several weeks.

The Admiralty has announced that for the purpose of the exercise, "Red" is presumed to be a strong maritime power and "Blue" a country with weak naval surface forces but with a strong air force and submarine fleet.

Battleship York Leads 'Reds'

Home Fleet Commander-in-Chief Admiral Sir Rhoderick McGrigor, flying his flag in the 35,000 ton battleship Duke of York, will command the "Red" forces.

In command of the defending "Blue" naval force during important phases will be the commander-in-chief of Plymouth naval base, Admiral Sir Robert Burnett. Air strikes will be controlled by Air Vice-Marshal Hopps.

In addition to the battleship Duke of York, aircraft-carriers Illustrious, Theseus and Vengeance and cruisers Diadem, Sirius and Cleopatra will participate.

About a score of destroyers and a similar number of submarines also will be involved.

Holy Family Crib Set On Hillside

CONSHOHOCKEN, Pa.—(INS)—The figures of the Holy Family—set in a hillside creche—soon will bring a solemn Christmas setting to the road connecting Philadelphia and Valley Forge.

The creche, built by a private family, attracts thousands of motorists each year. Its life-size figures and soft lights present a sombre, holy atmosphere.

Mr. and Mrs. William Elliott first built the creche alongside their home 13 years ago. They used as a stable, their summer picnic shed which has three open sides.

Then they assembled figures of Mary, Joseph, the Infant Jesus and the Magi and dressed them in pastel and bright-colored cloth.

An electric star hovers above the creche, but the only other light is a soft, low one from a reflector.

Mrs. Elliott says that the peaceful atmosphere sometimes is shattered by overly enthusiastic visitors.

She said:

"We actually had to nail our gate shut because the crowd got so large several persons almost knocked our figures over."

Salesman Has Idea For World Peace

Proposes Construction Of 'Temple Of Civilization' For Mankind's Benefactors

ST. LOUIS — (INS) — Angus Burns, a St. Louis salesman, spends a lot of his off-time selling an idea—a possible way to world peace.

The idea came to him back in 1938, while the globe was working itself up to World War II.

At that time, Burns was struck with this thought:

"What would happen if, instead of glorifying war and the men who make war, we devoted equal effort to glorifying the men who have brought peace and progress to the world?"

This was not especially original, but Burns went a step further and laid out a program for accomplishing that end.

He proposed the construction of a "Temple of Civilization" on whose walls would be inscribed the names of all those whose works have benefited mankind.

Could Achieve Fame Easily

Doctors, engineers, architects, and, inventors, for example, could easily achieve this type of immortality. But 'a man whose sole claim to fame was military skill would be blackballed.

Inside the temple would be a library devoted to biographies of the great men whose names are on the walls. A temple staff would devote its time, in part, to collecting and writing the life stories of the men who have gone unrecognized.

Burns thought his idea was sound but realized that he'd have to do something more than think about it if he wanted to put it across. He had never spoken to a group of more than three persons before so he took a course in public speaking. He trained himself so well that he was able to make an extensive speaking tour through the East this year explaining his "Temple of Civilization" idea.
